Rash Of Blazes; Thousands Flee Major Chicago Stores

State Street Hunt For Arson Suspects

CHICAGO (UPI)—At least five fires broke out in succession today at three giant department stores on Chicago's State Street. Fire Commissioner Robert J. Quinn said arson was a distinct possibility in all the blazes.

Police summoned all available canine units to help control the crowds milling in State Street, one of the world's great merchandising thoroughfares.

Within three hours, fires broke out at Carson Pirie Scott & Co., Montgomery Ward, a block and a half south on State, and Wieboldt's department store across Madison Street from Carsons.

Police Sgt. Edward Neville of the bomb and arson squad said 70 detectives, backed up by canine units, were searching the Loop with orders to search for "Incendiaries." Policemen with dogs at their sides guarded the entrances of department stores along the street.

Although first reports indicated the stores were evacuated safely, it was later reported that at least one fireman and perhaps two had been taken from Carsons on stretchers.

Water was reported knee deep on the store's ground floor.

BLINDING SMOKE

Thousands of commuters fled the stores through blinding smoke but there were no reports of injuries. All three stores were closed—something that has not happened on a week day since Chicago was immobilized by the greatest snow storm in its history last year.

Quinn, visibly disturbed, said, "We are trying to find out if the fires were connected. It's just not right." He called the Carsons fire "one of the worst downtown fire I have seen."

He said three separate fires flared at Carsons on the second, sixth and seventh floors. Firemen had barely controlled that blaze when a fire broke out in a storage area on the fourth floor at Montgomery Ward.

FLAMES ERUPT

As customers and employees streamed from Wards, flames erupted in a third floor vault at Wieboldts. There were unconfirmed reports of other fires in the store.

All the fires were quickly extinguished, but smoke and water damage was in the tens of thousands of dollars. State Street was in near pandemonium. Huge crowds gathered, even though the street was blocked off, and police pleaded over bullhorns for the throng to keep moving.

One Looter Slain; Memphis Still Racial Unrest Scene

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Police and National Guard tactical squads sealed off shattered Beale Street today and held off looters in the Negro districts of the embattled city.

Snipers fired on a squad car near the Mississippi River this morning. No one was hit.

"We are at war in Memphis," reported Fire-Police Director Frank L. Holloman. A 16-year-old Negro looter was slain, 62 persons were injured—three by gunfire — and 300 arrested yesterday. Arsonists set fire to nearly 150 buildings, police said.

As the sun rose the firebombs dwindled off but vandalism and looting continued, police said. At a liquor store plagued by looters, an officer said "the owners are there but the people keep ganging up and running over them when the police leave."

In an exclusive white neighborhood 10 miles from the rioting, a 15-foot cross was burned on a vacant lot early today. Negro schools reported very light attendance, police said.

Civil rights spokesman led by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said Negro sanitation workers, whose seven-week-old strike is the issue that flared into violence, would march again in the afternoon.

There were unconfirmed reports that King would leave Memphis this afternoon.

About 100 of the demonstrators have marched each day for weeks. King said the march would be held today, but police indicated there was a possibility it would not be allowed.

King came to Memphis yesterday to lead a massive, 3,000-man march. It went down Beale Street in an orderly manner until hundreds of young Negroes broke away and began clubbing police and smashing windows, launching the nation's worst racial violence of the year. King disavowed the youths.

Meanwhile today, Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., the nation's highest Negro officeholder, urged federal action to block King's planned "poor people's march" on the nation's capital.

Brooke said King would have a tough time keeping the march nonviolent.

U.S., Britain Block France In Gold Crisis

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — The United States and Britain today overcame a French filibuster against discussion of a revolutionary plan for a world monetary reform. France had sought to discuss almost everything else but found itself completely isolated.

Finance ministers of the so-called Group of Ten, the non-Communist world's 10 richest nations, opened talks about the plan which would create new man-made money in the form of so-called "Special Drawing Rights" (SDR) in the International Monetary Fund.

WORLD SHORTAGE

The plan would help ease a growing world gold shortage and take some of the heat off the hard pressed dollar. It would be used only between governments to provide additional financial backing for increased trade.

French Finance Minister Michel Debre instead of discussing the SDR plan strongly criticized the heavy American international payment deficit and reiterated previous attacks by himself and President Charles de Gaulle against what he termed the "unfair and privileged position of the dollar."

But finance ministers of the other nations — the United States, Britain, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Sweden, Canada and Japan—made it clear they would prefer to discuss the issue at hand and Debre agreed.

SWEEPING REFORMS

But first he called for sweeping reforms of the whole world monetary system, called for the official price of gold to be increased above the $35 an ounce price set by Washington for the past 34 years, and called again for scrapping of the dollar as the world's leading reserve currency. He said France wants complete equality among all currencies.

U.S. Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler told the conference bluntly it is here to discuss the SDR and not for a broad general review of monetary problems.

Enthusiastic Backing For Span Deck Study

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

A $265,000 study of a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge won enthusiastic, but somewhat academic, support yesterday from all but one of the bridge and highway district directors.

The exception was Stephan C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco, a strong critic of the proposed deck. The study figured the cost of the deck at $54.3 million, including necessary bridge repairs.

The study is academic, for the present at least, because directors voted 9-4 in November to defer all further action on a second deck until mass transportation is tried. But Leonoudakis and other critics of the proposal have voiced fears that enough directors soon will change their minds and vote to build the deck.

Leonoudakis' criticism came at a special board meeting called to receive the preliminary design and cost study, prepared by Ammann and Whitney, New York engineers. It was presented by Milton Brumer, president of the firm.

Noting that a second deck would mean another 70,000 cars would "pour into San Francisco each day," Leonoudakis asked Brumer if the study "made any provision for the problem you've delivered us."

"Obviously, something will have to be done in San Francisco," replied Brumer. "This was not part of our assignment, but we'd be delighted to make the study," he added.

Leonoudakis also objected the study failed to note that the state Division of Bay Toll Crossings last May estimated a second deck would cost $215 million just for new approaches.

Marin Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, a vigorous opponent both of the second deck and of the bridge board, interrupted Brumer's presentation with a request that he be allowed to comment on the study. Storer

New Flare-Up Along Jordan River Valley

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Israel and Jordan fought with tanks, artillery and mortars in a daylong battle the full 70-mile length of the Jordan River valley today. Israeli jet fighter-bombers screamed into action against Jordan gun positions.

It was the most serious outbreak of fighting since Israel's punitive attack on Jordan a week ago yesterday and appeared to be growing in intensity as the day wore on. Israel called it a "large concerted attack" by Jordan.

REPORT ON PLANES

A Jordanian military communique said four Israeli planes were shot down in flames in Israel territory by antiaircraft batteries and that a number of Israeli tanks and artillery positions were wiped out.

Israel reported daylong Jordanian attacks on large Israeli communities near the Jordan River and said its own artillery had knocked out Arab gun sites and a Long Tom artillery piece capable of firing for many miles into Israel.

MINE EXPLODES

Today's battling began only hours after an Arab mine exploded inside Israeli territory killing four Israeli farmers and seriously wounding an American volunteer described only as a 27-year-old New Yorker. Each side said the other opened the attack.

Israeli Ambassador Joseph Tekoah informed the U.N. Security Council of the fighting. He called it a "large concerted attack" and said it was an extremely grave violation of the cease-fire resolution passed by the Security Council last Monday.

U.S. Fears Super Plane In Red Hands

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. Command maintained tight secrecy today in its search for a $6 million F111A fighter-bomber missing and apparently shot down in Communist territory. There were fears the plane with its billion dollars worth of secrets may have fallen into Communist hands.

U.S. spokesman said only the super-sophisticated plane was "overdue on a mission in Southeast Asia and a search for the F111A was carried out in strict security. Radio Hanoi said it was shot down over North Vietnam's southern panhandle.

OTHERS FLYING

Despite the loss of the plane and its two-man crew at least some of the remaining five F111As based in Thailand went back to war today over North Vietnam. There were no immediate word as to the targets they hit.

In war action:

ENEMY KILLED

Allied troops killed 57 Communists in the fifth day of fighting near Trang Bang, a village 28 miles northwest of Saigon, yesterday. Allied losses included 17 men killed including two Americans.

U.S. B52 Stratofortresses flew eight missions, five of them striking the 16,000 to 20,000 North Vietnamese ringing the Marine fort of Khe Sanh on South Vietnam's northern frontier. They also struck in the A Shau valley, a little south, bombing Communist supply routes.

Jury Proposes Fifth Superior Court Judge

The Marin County Grand Jury last night placed itself at odds with the board of supervisors by recommending the addition of a fifth Marin Superior Court judge.

Supervisors last week refused to endorse a bill in the Legislature which would create a fifth department of the court.

The jury, expressing concern "about the inordinate delay attendant upon bringing cases to trial in Marin County," urged passage of the bill.

"Members of this grand jury feel that the existing backlog of civil cases could be eliminated by the establishment of a fifth Superior Court in Marin County, thereby ensuring the citizens of Marin sufficient and adequate access to its courts," the panel's resolution stated.

Grand Jury Foreman Austin W. Little said members of the panel's special activities committee discussed the matter with the judges and county counsel before the entire panel voted on the resolution.

Supervisors rejected pleas for the fifth court made by Judge Joseph G. Wilson, presiding judge of Marin Superior Court, and Robert W. Corlett of the Marin County Bar Association.

SAN QUENTIN UNREST

Sentences Are Called 'Monuments To Futility'

By DON BRANNING

(Last of five articles)

A March 5 report of the Legislature calls California's long prison sentences "monuments to our futility," that neither rehabilitate men nor deter them from crime. Early parole of lesser offenders and a greatly augmented use of parole and probation systems are recommended.

The research report for the Assembly's Committee on Criminal Procedures suggests immense savings to be gained by keeping men outside the walls, on parole or on probation. It costs $2,600 a year to warehouse a man in a state prison, $500 to $700 a year to have him on parole, says the report.

The report proffers a model bill earmarking an estimated $40 million a year in prison savings for parole and probation work at the community level — and for a sharp buildup in law enforcement activity to deter crime at city and county levels.

So heavy is the emphasis the 120-page report puts on fighting crime outside prison walls that it suggests future prison expenditures be held at the 1967-68 level, that there be no capital outlay for new prisons, and that San Quentin Prison be closed if the suggested parole, probation and

Proposal To Exempt Great Society Programs Defeated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate today rejected a move to exempt Great Society programs from a proposed $6 billion cut in federal spending that is packaged in a legislative bundle with a $12 billion tax increase.

Defeated, 55 to 22, was a proposal by Sen Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., to protect $7.8 billion worth of education, antipoverty, housing and manpower training programs from spending cuts.

By a 62 to 17 vote, senators also rejected a move by Sen. Joseph Clark, D-Pa., to require spending cuts in foreign military aid, the space program and in the $79 billion Defense Department budget.

A number of election-minded senators left Washington today eliminating hopes for final action on the bill this weekend.

The much-amended bill, which encompasses a wide variety of legislation, was amended again today when the Senate approved a proposed tax break to help finance national political conventions.

The amendment, sponsored by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, would permit local merchants in Miami and Chicago a tax exemption for advertisements in the Republi-

Pope Abolishes Court Splendor

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI today abolished the papal court with all its worldly trappings of splendor and replaced it with a purely functional body of a "strictly religious character."

The Pope fired scores of papal retainers and dismissed members of Rome's proud "Black Nobility" from his immediate retinue in the most drastic reform of the papal household since the Middle Ages.

The act, following a reform of the Roman Curia that assists the Pope in governing the church, was regarded by observers as one of the most significant moves of Paul's five-year old reign.

At the same time, the Pope created a consultant body of 30 outstanding laymen to advise the Vatican government on radio communications, art, medicine, law and other specialized fields.

The effect of the Pope's reform of the papal court, announced at a Vatican news conference, will be to reduce the court to a more austere and functional dimension.

Many Catholics have long regarded the splendor of the court as an embarrassment, and its flowery frills came under sharp criticism at the recent Vatican Ecumenical Council.

One of the more colorful bodies in the Vatican court was preserved intact, however. This was the famed Swiss Guards, who have served the Pope since the late Middle Ages.

The Pope hinted in a speech four years ago to the "Black Nobility," or noble guard, that he would eventually dispense with their services.

The Pope's order today preserved some of the functions held by members of the noble guard, but specified that the noble guard will no longer be part of the papal household.

The order also stated that the papal household will not be limited to persons of noble blood, and that posts will no longer be hereditary but will carry a term of five years, renewable by the Pope.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Prisoner Cardinal Turns 75

VIENNA (UPI) — Josef Cardinal Mindszenty today marked his 76th birthday without ceremony or celebration, a prisoner unable and unwilling to step outside the U.S. embassy in Budapest.

Mindzenty

The Roman Catholic primate of Hungary shunned a birthday celebration this year as he has for the 20 years that he has lived under sentence of life imprisonment imposed by the Hungarian Communist regime.

Twelve of those years were spent in his two-room embassy refuge, normally the apartment of the ambassador. He has stepped outside only for walks in the high-walled embassy garden.

Russ Accuses West

MOSCOW (UPI)—Communist Party chief Leonid Brezhnev, in an apparent reference to the ferment in Eastern Europe, today accused the West of trying to undermine unity in the Communist camp.

In a wide-ranging speech at a conference of the Moscow (city) Communist Party, Brezhnev attacked the instability of the Western monetary system and defended Soviet intellectuals.

The major of Brezhnev's speech was directed at elements he said were trying to shatter the bulwarks of Communism.

Plague Feared

KHE SANH, Vietnam (UPI)—Bubonic plague may be spreading among the North Vietnamese troops surrounding this Marine fort on South Vietnam's northern border, U. S. spokesmen said today.

Marine officers said the plague may be carried by rats feeding on Communist corpses lying just beyond the fort's barbed wire defenses.

Double Property Tax

DEATH IN SPACE?

Soviets Pay Final Tribute To Gagarin

MOSCOW (UPI) — Thousands of grieving Russians ignored a chilly predawn wind today and lined up to pay their last respects to space hero Yuri Gagarin, killed in the crash of his crippled jet fighter Wednesday.

Hundreds of thousands more were expected to follow them beneath black-bordered photographs and past the cremated remains of the fallen "peoples cosmonaut," the first human being ever to fly through space.

In the heart of Moscow workmen chiseled a square hole in the Kremlin wall where the urn containing Gagarin's ashes will be placed in a state funeral tomorrow.

Gagarin, whose boyish exuberance well suited him in his role as one of the Soviet Union's most popular figures, died with another pilot Wednesday in the crash of their jet near the ancient cathedral town of Vladimir 110 miles northeast of Moscow.

Official reports contained few details but informed sources said Gagarin radioed, "I'm going down," as the MIG15 plunged toward earth.

Meanwhile in London, an observer of the Russian space program today questioned the official account of Soviet cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin's death and suggested he was killed during a space test.

The Daily Telegraph quoted former Soviet science journalist Leonid Vladimirov as saying Gagarin died in a space launching, not in an obsolete MIG15 jet trainer as some sources reported.

Vladimirov, former correspondent of a Russian science magazine who is now in London, said the version that Gagarin and Seregin were killed while piloting the MIG was "nonsense because there is only room for one person in a MIG15."

Vote Shows Labor Party In Trouble

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor Party government reeled today from its most sensational ballot box defeat since it came to power four years ago.

The Times of London said Labor's loss in all four parliamentary special elections yeasterday had so shaken some of Wilson's backbench followers in the House of Commons that they began plotting to oust the prime minister.

Polls had predicted that Wilson's government, deep in austerity and public feuding, was in trouble in the voting to fill vacancies in four constituencies. Labor had held three of the seats. But all four went to Conservatives and by such massive proportions that even Labor Party General Secretary Len Williams called it "a severe setback."

"This is a devastating verdict by the electors. For the Labor government to hang on to office is to make a complete sham of democracy," said Anthony Barber, chairman of the opposition Conservatives.

The Conservatives held their seat of Warwick-Leamington Spa by 21,922 votes, triple their victory margin in the previous election. And they captured from Labor the seats at Dudley, Meriden and Acton by respective majorities of 11,656, 15,263 and 3,720 votes.

Women Run Into Tear Gas In Panama

PANAMA (AP) — A riot last night with tear gas and gunshots after a silent protest by 2,000 women was the latest episode in a complex story here. The main elements are two claimants to the presidency, a restive national guard and a decisive Supreme Court session starting Monday.

The women's "march of mourning" protested the arrests of opposition party members in the presidential crisis. It led to rioting and looting. National Guard troops broke up the fray with tear gas and shots fired in the air.

The protest turned disorderly when the women's procession, joined by several thousand men and boys, spotted two unarmed policemen. The crowd jeered and stoned them. The two policemen were injured and two other persons were hospitalized with bullet wounds.

For the moment the 4,000-man National Guard, the country's sole armed force, remains in effective control in this tiny land linking the Americas. The guard backs Marco A. Robles, the president deposed last Sunday by the National Assembly. So far the troops have prevented the president appointed by the assembly, Max Delvalle, from assuming control.

Underlying all this is the struggle for power in next May's presidential elections Last fall the government coalition bossed by Robles split over the choice of his successor.

The dissidents went over to ex-president Arnulfo Arias, their archrival of past electoral battles, and organized a powerful bloc representing 70 per cent of the presidential vote in the 1964 elections.

The bloc worried, however, about the Robles government control of the election machinery. As Arias puts it: "We have the votes. But we need to have them counted."

Robles was ousted Sunday after an impeachment conviction on grounds that he backed his finance minister, David Samudio, to succeed him as president. The opposition, trying to neutralize official influence in the elections, charged that Robles' backing of a candidate violated the constitution.

Death Penalty Issue Now In Laps Of Court

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The California Supreme Court today studied the latest and strongest challenge to the constitutionality of the state's death penalty.

Seven justices of the high court took the matter under submission yesterday following a day - long hearing attended by overflow crowds. A petition for habeas corpus filed in behalf of two condemned murders will affect the lives of all 74 men on San Quentin's Death Row.

NO DECISION DATE

The court said its decision could come anytime from three weeks to three months.

Prof. Anthony Amsterdam of the University of Pennsylvania, A. L. Wirin, counsel for the American Civil Liberties Union, and attorney Gerald Gottlieb of Los Angeles asked the seven justices to set aside the death sentences on four grounds. They were:

The judge and jury have no standards by which to determine whether life imprisonment or the death penalty should be imposed.

Condemned men do not have attorneys between the time of their automatic appeal and their execution.

JURIES BIASED

Jurors who oppose the death penalty are systematically excluded, leaving juries "death - oriented."

The death sentence is a cruel and unusual punishment in violation of the Eighth Amendment.

"If a man has money enough to get a lawyer, he'll get good results (on further petitions)," said Amsterdam. "If he has no money, he gets no results."

Asst. Atty. Gen. Al Harris said there was no need for Death Row inmates to have attorneys during the final course of appeals.

"After the automatic appeal, there is no longer presumption of innocence," he said. "We are talking of someone adjudged guilty. We are giving them a personal legal adviser."

EXECUTION STAYED

The supreme court stayed all executions last November pending the outcome of yesterday's hearing.

The two test cases before the high court involve Frederick Saterfield, 52, Orange County, and Robert Page Anderson, 31, San Diego. Saterfield was convicted of killing his common - law wife and her daughter. Anderson shot and killed a pawnshop credit manager.

Teens Working For Fair Housing Vote

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (UPI) — Nearly 400 teen-agers in this all-white Detroit suburb have become involved in work to get voter approval of a fair housing law which will be put to a public ballot Monday.

The teen-agers from the city's three high schools held a rally yesterday and then moved out to convince their parents and neighbors to support the measure, passed last Nov. 27. It was nullified in January when petitions were filed calling for the public referendum.

Franco, Aides View Unrest By Students

MADRID (UPI)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco today called an emergency cabinet session to study a new wave of nationwide student unrest.

The students, demanding freedom to organize and publicly express themselves, are threatening the worst university unrest since the Spanish civil war.

Well informed government sources said the cabinet deplored the situation and expressed its regrets that some academic authorities had accidentally been attacked by the police.

But the sources said the government resolved to "maintain order and respect for the law by all legal means."

State Eviction Notices Received By Ark Dwellers

Residents of arks along Corte Madera Creek were given 60-day notice of eviction by the State Land Commission yesterday to make way for flood control work on the creek.

Two of the ark residents, living upstream of Bon Air Bridge, protested that construction of the bridge and a subdivision have blocked egress, so that they will not be able to get their furniture out of their arks.

The protestors were Mrs. Myrtile Hugus and Mrs. Harry Winter, who live on Boardwalk 4.

They were told by the commission that their possible avenue of recompense would be with Marin County, not with the state, because the state has simply been leasing them their ark sites on a month-to-month basis.

About 17 arks will be razed to make room for the flood control work.

Deputies Report Four Burglaries In County Area

Marin Sheriff's deputies today reported four burglaries in the unincorporated areas of Marin County.

Thieves entered through a window of Barbara Norwitt's home at 5 St. Lucia Place, Paradise Cay, Wednesday and stole a $1,000 diamond ring and other jewelry, they said.

On March 18, they entered through an unlocked door at Robert Warren's house at 505 LaVerne Avenue, Homestead Valley, and stole two rifles and a revolver, officers reported. The theft was reported to them Saturday.

On Tuesday, someone stole jewelry worth $975 and $12 in cash from the home of Mildred L. Windall at 30 Fairway Drive in the Golf Club tract outside San Rafael. The burglar entered through an unlocked patio door, deputies said.

John W. Dumont of 2221 Vineyard Road, near Novato, reported Monday that someone stole $250 in cash and coins from dresser drawers in the house. There was no sign of forced entry, according to deputies.

Marin Building Rises Over Last Year's Low

U. S. Chamber of Commerce figures show February building in Marin County increased greatly in comparison with building in February, 1967, when a building slump was on in the county.

Valuation of all building construction for which permits were issued in February of this year was $4,132,000, compared with a valuation of $1,795,000 in February of 1967.

The increase was reflected in new home construction, an industry that was in a sharp slump last year.

Valuation of new dwelling units for which permits were issued in February in Marin County was $2,115,000, compared with $1,006,000 in February, 1967. Permits were issued for 94 new homes in February of this year, compared with only 39 in February, 1967.

The increase was reflected throughout the San Francisco Bay Area. Total value of all building construction permits in the nine-county San Francisco Bay Area in February was $81.1 million, a 35 per cent increase over the $60.1 million in permits issued in February of 1967.

U.S. Cannot Defend World, Nixon Declares

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said yesterday the United States no longer has the capacity to defend the entire Free World.

In a nationally broadcast speech Nixon, the only major candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in Wisconsin's primary Tuesday, said the United States should fashion a "new diplomacy" to readjust the balances within the Free World and between the East and the West.

"If the other nations of the Free World want to remain free, they must arise in their own defense," Nixon said, concluding his Wisconsin campaign. "They can no longer afford the luxury of relying on American power. It no longer has the capacity to do all that needs to be done."

Nixon said all around the rim of Communist China the nations of non-Communist Asia are building a "new prosperity and developing new cohesiveness, which together suggests that they should be able to play far more assertive roles in their own defense."

The Johnson Administration sought to build a youth corps of its own on Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's model today, appealing to Young Democrats to stick with the President.

As McCarthy's youthful followers buoyantly spread his antiwar gospel in Wisconsin and predicted victory over Johnson in next Tuesday's primary, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Housing Secretary Robert C. Weaver told the party's Young Democratic Clubs that age doesn't mean as much as maturity, in a Washington, D.C. meeting.

Humphrey delicately avoided offense to McCarthy's young supporters and paid him special deference as a fellow Minnesotan waging a campaign that is "honorable and devoted to the issues."

But he said under the Johnson Administration, remedies for domestic ills "have come faster in the last four years than ever before in the history of this Republic. Those who deny that record distort history."

On the war issue, Humphrey said "President Johnson continues to pursue the difficult middle course —neither giving in to appeasement nor reaching for the terrible weapons that could mean World War III. That course offers no easy way out."

Elsewhere in Washington, political strategists of the AFL-CIO met in extraordinary session to map plans for the 1968 presidential elections. President George Meany, a solid Johnson supporter, called the meeting months ahead of the usual time out of apparent fear Johnson will be defeated. Labor sources pointed to private surveys which indicated a 2-1 victory for McCarthy shaping up in Wisconsin.

Kennedy meantime moved on to Arizona and New Mexico from the midwest.

Surging crowds pushed and jostled to get close as he said in Denver "we will turn this country around." Kennedy promised Nebraskans higher farm prices, and was cheered at the state university as he called for negotiations with the Viet Cong. The response cooled when he said it was "most unfortunate" some Americans flee to Canada to escape the draft, and he called for obedience to draft laws.

In his audience at Lincoln was Republican "peace" candidate Harold E. Stassen, who opened his own Nebraska campaign by dropping by to see Kennedy operate.

In Indianapolis, Kennedy filed his own nominating petitions for the state primary just as his brother John F. Kennedy did eight years ago. He will face McCarthy and a stand-in for Johnson, Gov. Robert Branigin, in the May 7 balloting.

In Florida, slates were filed in behalf of Nixon, Johnson and McCarthy for the state's May 28 primary. Gov. Claude Kirk, who has national ticket aspirations, suffered a stinging setback when Republicans denied him a favorite son slate.

Secret Talks Free Three Prisoners

SAIGON (UPI)—The United States today returned three captured North Vietnamese seamen to Hanoi as a result of secret negotiations between American embassy officials and North Vietnamese government representatives, the second in the history of the war.

The meeting was the first known face-to-face encounter between the warring nations since unsuccessful first contacts between U.S. and North Vietnamese diplomats in Moscow in January, 1967, regarding a request by President Johnson for direct peace negotiations.

SECOND CONTACT

Diplomatic sources said the second known contacts between the two countries took place during the past several weeks in Vientiane, Laos. They resulted in the release by U.S. authorities at the Vientiane airport of the seamen. After a six-hour stopover in the Laotion capital, the seamen were flown to Hanoi on an International Control Commission plane.

They were accompanied to Vietniane from Saigon by a U.S. embassy official and a representative of the International Red Cross. The latter said the men had been treated correctly in a prison on Da Nang since their capture in 1966.

ALLEGE BEATINGS

However, the seamen told reporters at the Vientiane airport they had been beaten and held on short leashes during their captivity. Lt. Hoang Phui, 34, executive officer of the PT boat on which they were captured off the coast of Vietnam, said they were not fed properly and were interrogated so much they almost collapsed from exhaustion.

When a newsman asked to see scars from beatings they were unable to display them. Reporters said the men did not look tired or starved.

It was not known if the prisoners were the only topic of conversation between the American and North Vietnamese representatives.

U. S. spokesmen told newsmen the three seamen were released in response to North Vietnam's freeing on Feb. 16 three American airmen shot down and captured over the Communist country. The spokesmen said the U. S. government hopes the exchange will lead to further releases on both sides.

Heart Transplant Decision Looms

STANFORD (UPI)—Two men, one with serious heart trouble and the other with irreversible brain damage, lay in the hospital today while doctors debated whether to perform a heart transplant operation.

Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital said the two were in the cardiac section for studies. Neither man was identified.

Dr. Norman E. Shumway, who performed the world's third heart transplant operation Jan. 6 on Mike Kasperak, would head the medical team. Kasperak, 54, a retired steelworker, died 15 days later.

Marijuana At Quentin Is Charged

Wayne Ladd of San Bernardino County, who has prior convictions for sale of marijuana to minors, possession of the weed, escape and possession of a weapon by an ex-convict, is to appear in Marin Superior Court on the charge Monday.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said that Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson ordered the transcript of last night's testimony sealed and forbade him from discussing contents of the transcript.

Because of this, Bales said, he cannot disclose how much marijuana Ladd is supposed to have possessed or where and how the weed was allegedly found.

This is the second San Quentin indictment this month in which the testimony transcript was sealed by Judge Wilson.

The first sealing of the month came in the case of Raymond Vega Lopez, 24-year-old prisoner who allegedly had a brass rod weapon in his possession Dec. 8 at San Quentin.

The sealings were consistent with the judge's earlier promise, after sealing the transcripts of 16 persons indicted for marijuana and dangerous drug sales that all future transcripts would be off-limits for public inspection.

The Independent-Journal has asked the California District Court of Appeals to order that the judge unseal those transcripts.

Plea Due Monday On TNT Charges

George K. Giakovmis, 24, amateur creator of rockets and homemade explosives, was arraigned in Alameda Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of illegal possession of TNT.

His case was continued for plea until Monday morning before Judge T. Lester Foley in Municipal Court.

Inspector Kenneth Irving of the Marin sheriff's office said today it will take about a week for the state Criminal Investigation and Identification Laboratory at Sacramento to analyze suspected explosives confiscated at the Oak Manor home of Giakovmis's mother at the time of his arrest Wednesday.

The TNT was found in Giakovmis' boarding house room in Hayward after the room was wrecked by fire.

Fire District's Losses Tallied

Fire losses in the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District totaled an estimated $21,400 last year, compared with $1,867 in 1966, Chief Carl O. Heynen Jr. has reported.

The district had 27 fires to buildings and contents, compared to five the previous year. Losses included $13,238 to buildings and $9,568 to contents.

Total number of fire runs increased from 103 to 111 but false alarms decreased from 32 to 18.

Tam High Object Of Hoax Bomb Call

A hoax bomb threat was called in to the Tamalpais High School switchboard at 8:15 a.m. today by a youth, but failed to disrupt classes, Principal Robert H. Prather said.

A Mill Valley fire truck and the sheriff's office were called and the school staff made a thorough inspection of the school before classes started.

Quentin Parolee Clear In Pasadena Murder

PASADENA (UPI) — Detectives have cleared a San Quentin parolee of any connection with the rape-strangulation of a woman on a hiking trail in Oak Grove Park.

Emanuel Leonard Jr., 32, was arrested on suspicion of slaying Mrs. Anna Elizabeth Payne, 25, Barstow, whose nude body was found March 21 by firemen who arrived at the scene of a grass fire.

Two Drown In Boating Accident

A Concord man and woman were pronounced dead at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital yesterday after a boat sank near the Carquinez Bridge.

The respective spouses of the drowning victims were treated for shock at the base hospital and transferred to Kaiser Hospital in Walnut Creek.

Dead are Lonnie Compton, 50, and Dorothy Compton, 53, his sister-in-law. The bodies were taken to the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato.

Injured in the mishap were Compton's wife, Beatrice, and Dorothy Compton's husband, Walter, also of Concord, and pilot and owner of the small boat, Kenneth Carter, another Concord resident.

The four Comptons were flown to Hamilton in two Coast Guard helicopters. Carter was picked up by a Coast Guard cutter and taken to Benecia.

The accident occurred shortly after 4:30 p.m. when the 16-foot cabin outboard boat struck a cable being towed behind the research vessel Grebe.

Contract To Build School Is Awarded

Trustees of the Tomales High School District last night ratified a $995,400 contract with Olson and Baum Construction Co. of Santa Rosa to construct the new high school.

Bids were opened last Thursday and the board approved awarding the contract to the Santa Rosa firm, lowest of seven bidders at a special meeting last Friday.

The board said, last night $53.38 in playground equipment and furniture will not be provided during construction, but added when the building is completed, according to Supt. Anthony Matulich.

The board approved a new pay schedule for classified employees, as recommended by Matulich.

Under the new schedule, pay for bus drivers, maintenance men and custodians will be from $410 to $458 per month; full time secretaries from $325 to $406 per month, and overtime increased from $2.35 to $2.85 per hour.

The cafeteria manager remains at $325 per month; part time secretaries and a cafeteria assistant will stay at $280 per month and part time bus drivers will remain at $235 per month for working 534 hours per year.

Matulich was given permission to attend a conference May 1-3 in Santa Barbara.

The board changed its scheduled April 11 meeting to April 15 because of Easter vacation.

can and Democratic convention programs.

The measure would require that money raised from program advertisements be used to defray convention costs.

The Dirksen amendment thus became part of the excise tax package which is becoming the prime vehicle for President Johnson's long-stalled 10 per cent tax surcharge. The bill would also "freeze" his $186 billion budget for fiscal 1969 at $180 billion.

Trustees Buy Portables In Larkspur

The Larkspur School District board last night authorized a summer school program, awarded a portable classroom contract, and filled an interim board vacancy.

The summer session will be from June 19 through July 19 at the Neil Cummins School. Alfred F. Kerr, vice principal at the Larkspur-Corte Madera School, will be in charge of the expected 500 pupils.

The board authorized the sale of $191,000 in bonds, then awarded a $59,663 contract from those funds to Speedspace Corp. of Santa Rosa for portable buildings for a library at the Neil Cummins School and two classrooms and a building addition at the Henry C. Hall School.

Named to fill the board vacancy created by the Feb. 2 death of John C. Cunningham was Leon Persson of 16 Echo Avenue, Corte Madera. Persson, 37, is branch manager of the West Coast Chemical Distributors, San Francisco, and is a past president of Marina Homeowners Association.

The term expires June 30, 1969.

The Larkspur School District Board also:

CORRESPONDENCE — Agreed to write Gov. Ronald Reagan and the Legislature opposing cuts in state school district funds.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Marion Allen, kindergarten teacher at Neil Cummins School, effective June 30.

REPORT — Heard Cohen report on an in-service teacher briefing course for current instruction on family life education and drug abuse.

Pro-Beilenson Opener In Marin

The Marin County campaign for State Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverley Hills, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate, began in San Rafael last night.

An organizational meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Calder at 601 Thornwood Terrace, and co-sponsored by Joseph Dahlman, Richard Breiner, Mrs. Samuel Meblin and Mrs. Ursula Davidson.

Auto Stereo Stolen

An auto stereophonic set and tapes valued at $110 were taken from his car between 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. yesterday while it was parked on Hayes Street near Novato High School, Henry Eldon Poyte of 1133 Third Street, Novato, reported to police. Entry into the car was made by prying open the right hand front door, police reported.

OBITUARIES

Julius Paul Dies At 58

Funeral for Julius Paul of Kentfield, clothing manufacturer and retailer, will be Sunday at 12:30 p.m. at the Sinai Memorial Chapel, San Francisco.

Paul, who lived at 112 Laurel Grove Avenue, died in a local hospital Wednesday, two days after his 58th birthday.

A native of Toronto, Canada, he had lived in California for 46 years and in Marin since 1943.

For 20 years he operated Golden Gate Clothes in San Francisco and also had retail outlets under the name Artists Tailors in San Jose, San Francisco, Oakland and Marin until four years ago.

He was active in Jewish community life in Marin and was instrumental in the formation of the first Sunday school for Jewish children in Marin at Temple Rodef Sholom in San Rafael.

He was a past president and member of the B'nai B'rith Lodge and was an organizer and advisor to the B'nai B'rith Girls' and AZA Youth Groups.

His wife, Rose, operates Rose Paul Realty in San Rafael.

Besides his wife, Paul is survived by a son, Ronald Paul of Lucas Valley, a daughter, Carolyn Guerra of Terra Linda; a brother, Aleck Paul, and two sisters, Rose Paul and Eva Dossey, all of San Francisco, and three grandchildren.

Entombment will be in Gardens of Eternity, Colma. The family prefers memorial contributions to Rabbi Morton Hoffman of Temple Rodef Sholom, for establishment of a Jewish cemetery in Marin.

HOWARD E. BIRD

Death was apparently due to normal causes, according to Asst. County Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine.

Bird, a native of New York, lived in California 23 years. He moved to San Rafael from Berkeley about a year ago.

He was an electrician and served in the Air Force in World War II.

He is survived by his wife, Mary Jeanne, and a daughter, Mila, at home, and a brother, Lorenzo Bird of West Virginia.

FRED A. CRAWFORD

Private funeral for Fred A. Crawford of San Francisco, father of Fred A. Crawford Jr. of San Rafael, has been held in San Francisco.

Crawford, 69, died in a San Francisco hospital Wednesday after a short illness. He was a laborer.

HATTIE JONES

Hattie Daly Jones, who lived with a daughter, Mrs. Joyce Westergard of 420 Montecillo Road, San Rafael, died yesterday in a San Francisco hospital after a short illness. She was 84.

A native of Santa Maria, Santa Barbara County, Mrs. Jones lived most of her life in Gridley, Butte County, where her husband, J. H. Jones, operated a confectionery store until his death 25 years ago.

She was a former employee of Southern Pacific Hospital in San Francisco and resided in Marin County about 18 months.

She is survived by three sons, Marion C. Jones of San Francisco, John H. Jones of Quincy and Albert E. Jones of Lake Tahoe; two daughters, Harriet Lemons of Mill Valley and Mrs. Westergard; a sister, Mamie Kallock of Santa Cruz; nine grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Friends may call at Ashley and McMullen, San Francisco until 9 a.m. Sunday. Burial will be in Gridley Cemetery, Gridley.

GEORGE W. STORZ

Private graveside services for Marine Sgt. George W. Storz, 23, killed in Vietnam March 8, were held today at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Storz' wife, Carla, and two children, George and Ursula, live in Woodside. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Storz of San Anselmo.

Brutality Claim At The Presidio

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The American Civil Liberties Union today charged military police at the Presidio with brutality in the treatment of prisoners at the base stockade.

Ernest Besig, executive director of the local ACLU, said a month-long investigation indicated at least four inmates had been mistreated. He said guards threatened one with death and rubbed another's face in his own excrement.

Presidio officials said others had made similar charges earlier. They were investigated and found without merit, the Army officers said. But they said "appropriate action" would be taken on receipt of Besig's letter.

Cary Grant Gets Out Of Hospital

NEW YORK (UPI)—Film idol Cary Grant, still stiff from auto accident injuries, left St. John's Hospital today surrounded by nurses, nuns and newsmen and holding the hand of hospital administrator, Sister Thomas Frances.

"I've enjoyed their company and I hope they've enjoyed mine," Grant told reporters as he made his way slowly to his limousine. "If a man has to have an accident, this is the place for it."

BIRTHS

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED

Kenneth Wayne Moffett, 22, of Hamilton Air Force Base, and Beverly Ann Haran, 21, of San Rafael.

Girl Faces Shots In Dog Bite Case

Claudette Sorensen, 18-year-old El Cerrito girl, will have to take the painful and dangerous Pasteur series of rabies shots unless the dog which bit her in Sausalito on Sunday is found.

Sausalito police said Miss Sorensen was bitten near the eye in Vina del Mar Plaza at approximately 10:50 p.m. The dog was described as a mixed breed resembling a beagle, tan with short hair and a long tail. He may be owned by a young black-haired man who frequents the park but is not a "hippie-type," police said.

Anyone with information about the dog should call police headquarters, Sgt. James R. Nunes said. Miss Sorensen will come to the station to try to identify any dogs picked up.

9:07 p.m., San Rafael — Leaves burning on Villa Avenue near Grand and Elm avenues; no damage.

IN CORTE MADERA

Taxes Crop Up As No. 1 Issue

High taxes are the No. 1 issue in Corte Madera by 2-to-1 vote of the three candidates for city council.

The third aspirant, Jack W. Kelly, believes the most important issue is Synanon. But Robert P. Simmons, an incumbent serving by appointment, and Byron D. White both believe it is taxes.

The three gave their views last night at a candidates' forum co-sponsored by the Central Marin League of Woman Voters and the Corte Madera Lions Club. About 70 persons heard the dicussion at the Corte Madera Recreation Center, and many asked questions from the floor.

APRIL 9 VOTE

Two of the three will be elected in April 9 voting.

Kelly, a dry cleaning shop owner, said that if Synanon Foundation should purchase the Uplands Apartments and convert it to a treatment center, "there'd be a lot of dollars removed from our tax rolls."

Next in improtance to preventing that, he said, is manning of the No. 2 fire station in East Corte Madera. Fire insurance rates there are now Class 6, and "I have it from the horse's mouth that next year it will be class 7," he said. (Fire insurance rates are based on the class, with Class 1 the lowest.)

Kelly also called for inquiry into reason for "mass migration" of officers from the Corte Madera Police Department.

TAX RATE

Simmons, a public accountant, noted that although Corte Madera's town general tax rate is only 99 cents, its citizens pay a total tax rate of about $11 per $100 of assessed valuation, "which is more than anyone else in the county."

To help keep taxes down, he called for formation of a local taxpayers association with representatives from all the improvement clubs, whose members would attend all meetings of taxing bodies and play the role of bird dogs. He noted that when town councilmen recently voted themselves 150-per-month salary, "in the audience were an I-J reporter, a member of the planning commission, the wife of a town councilman — that's all."

Simmons also called for merging the Corte Madera Sanitary District with the town government, saying this could save four cents on the tax rate. To a later question from the audience, he said it would not call for discharging any present district employee.

White, a purchasing agent who will retire next month, in agreeing that taxes are most important, made an oblique reference to Synanon by declaring, "We must try to keep all property taxable."

AGAINST PARK

None of the three had a good word for the proposal of Pierre W. Joske, county parks-recreation director, for a garbage-fill park project on the Muzzi property near the bay. Kelly said it should be commercially developed — "if we have more park, we've got more hippie area."

Simmons proposed the 250 acres be developed with a commercial center, industrial park, marina, convention center by the highway, and possibly a ferry slip. White agreed and added there would be room for a golf course. "The entire area can best be developed by private industry," he said.

Simmons and White again agreed that the town should go carefully on any county-sponsored "cooperative projects" but should cooperate with Larkspur as good neighbors. White said the proposed new county library branch to jointly serve Greenbrae, Larkspur and Corte Madera is "not the right answer." Kelly said, "We should coordinate with the county on the library."

The forum was 20 minutes late in starting, as it was meeting night for the co-sponsoring Lions Club and the Lions were just on the main course of dinner at the announced starting time of 8 p.m. Most of the Lions were "the men who came to dinner" in the opposite sense from the George S. Kaufman-Moss Hart play, leaving before the candidates' forum started.

Referral Service For GI Housing

Marin County apartment managers or property owners willing to rent to Army personnel can make use of a free referral service at the Presidio of San Francisco.

Those using the service, however, must agree in writing that their property may be rented or sold without regard to race, creed or national origin.

Listings may be made by letter or in person to the Family Housing Office, Building T-232, Presidio of San Francisco.

California Crime Up 11 Per Cent, Lynch Reports

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch says California had 457,835 serious crimes last year, an increase of 11.6 per cent.

In a report issued yesterday Lynch said juvenile narcotics arrests rose 183 per cent in California in 1967, with more than 9,000 juveniles taken into custody for drug violations.

Juvenile delinquency arrests last year numbered 323,395 and the increase in juvenile arrests for all crime classifications was up 13,000 over 1966.

The state's five most populous counties also showed increased crime rates.

Alameda County was up 30.2 per cent and San Francisco 36.3 per cent, with big jumps noted in burglary and robbery. Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego counties each had 10 per cent increases.

Disneyland cost more than $200 million to build.

Enthusiastic Backing On Second Deck Study

said he had an appointment, and had to leave.

A motion that he be allowed to speak was defeated in a voice vote. Incensed, Storer said, "I am not going to rest until this board is abolished." He then stomped out of the meeting.

Director William Moskovitz of San Francisco charged that Storer was "seeking publicity."

The only other attack on the second deck was by a member of the audience of some 35 persons. Mrs. Frieda Klussmann, president of San Francisco Beautiful, predicted "solid resistance from both sides of the bridge" if the second deck proposal ever were revived.

She won from Brumer a promise that "everything will be done not to have arches" above the bridge's upper roadway to give directions.

Director George H. Ludy of Marin termed the study "excellent." Marin's other director, Thomas D. Hardcastle, left before the presentation ended and did not comment on the study.

Brumer, in response to a question from director John E. Dearman of San Francisco, said his firm had not considered the feasibility of trains on the bridge, "but I suspect it won't work," he said. A definite answer "would take a very elaborate study," added Brumer.

The engineers' plan would provide a four-lane lower deck and reduce the existing deck from six to five lanes. Buses, but not trucks, could run on the lower deck, said Brumer.

The plans also call for a third Waldo tunnel.

Among the itemized expenses included in the 79-page report were $50,000 for "ceremonies," $300,000 for a suicide fence and $5.5 million for engineering.

The study will give Marin and San Francisco officials "something to fall back on," said bridge board president John E. Nelson of Mendocino County. "I don't think they realize the extent of the problem," said Nelson.

Youths Arrested In Drugs Probe

Four San Anselmo youths and one from Fairfax were arrested by San Anselmo police yesterday for the alleged sale and purchase of eight marijuana cigarettes.

Police reported that one of the youths, 17, purchased the cigarettes for 25 cents each from an unidentified source at Sir Francis Drake High School last Tuesday.

The youth in turn sold or gave some of the cigarettes to his four companions, aged 15 to 17, officers said.

The 17-year-old was booked into Contra Costa County Juvenile Hall, where he is a ward, for investigation of possession and sale of marijuana. The others were released to parents or guardians pending further investigation.

Lack Of Quorum

For lack of a quorum, last night's scheduled meeting of Fairfax Planning Commission was postponed until 8 p.m. Monday in the women's club.

OVER 60 AAMCO SHOPS IN CALIFORNIA

You name it. Mercury's got it.

Mercury's got the greatest looking station wagon on the road today—the Colony Park. Notice the fine car touches, the look of richly grained veneer on the full length side panels. But don't be impressed by looks alone. Come in, give it a test drive. Colony Park gives you the kind of ride that is really limousine-like in its smooth comfort. And for convenience, there's the two-way tailgate that pulls down like a regular tailgate or opens like a door. Which all goes to prove that by day, the Colony Park works hard as a wagon, but looks good enough to go places by night. So if you'd like a great deal in a wagon, come in soon. (We can also offer you good deals on 32 other great Mercurys for '68.)

Bus Integration Foe To Try Again On Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Southern California assemblyman tried today to salvage a bill outlawing the use of buses to integrate schools without parents' approval before a child can be sent to school outside his neighborhood.

"The thrust of the bill is to maintain locally segregated schools," said subcommittee Chairman Willie L. Brown Jr., D-San Francisco.

But Assemblyman Floyd L. Wakefield, R-South Gate, said he would try to reword the measure he is sponsoring and try again. Two subcommittee members said they didn't like required busing but didn't like the bill either.

Most witnesses flatly opposed "forced integration."

"I do agree that buses will never solve the problem," said Assemblyman Leroy F. Greene, D-Sacramento, chairman of the full Assembly Education Committee.

"I do not like this busing," said Assemblyman Earle P. Crandall, R-San Jose, "but I'm not in favor of the state moving in to take any powers from local districts."

"I am convinced that a great majority of people, including Negroes, do not want these programs," said Robert A. Champlain, representing Mothers Support Neighborhood Schools, Inc., of San Francisco.

"You are asking us to write into state law something your board itself will not undertake," Assemblyman Bill Greene, D-Los Angeles, later told J. C. Chambers, a member of the Los Angeles school board.

Chambers said he represented the minority opposed to the board's integration plans. "I represent a minority of the board but a majority of the community," Chambers said.

Compromise Urged For BART Rescue

SACRAMENTO (AP) — San Francisco Bay Area mayors and county supervisors — led by San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto — have urged legislators to come up with a compromise — any compromise — to rescue the financially shaky Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

But at a luncheon meeting yesterday, the delegation learned that legislators from the three BART region counties — Alameda, Contra Costa and San Francisco — are too divided among themselves to reach a compromise at present.

At issue is how to raise $144 million needed to complete the 75-mile rapid transit system.

Sen. George Miller, D-Martinez, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said he opposes "pre-compromising" the issue.

"I think a good case can be made for bridge tolls," Miller said.

However, Democratic Assemblyman Robert Crown, chairman of the lower house Ways and Means committee, said his Alameda County constituents oppose higher bridge tolls. "I think we have only one workable solution — the imposition of an automobile in lieu tax," Crown said.

Such a tax would mean residents in the three counties would pay a greater registration fee for their automobiles than other Californians.

Credit Cards Curb Shelved Fast-Rising

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Legislation to protect persons from having to pay bills charged on a credit card they didn't ask for has died in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

"The mailing of credit cards to people who haven't asked for them is an open invitation to fraud and theft," said Sen. Alfred E. Alquist, D-San Jose, author of the bill rejected last night.

The measure would have barred a firm from recovering money if it can't prove the card was requested or that it was requested or that it was actually delivered if the card was not requested.

Alquist, responding to opposing testimony from the California Banking Association, said he was "amazed to hear a representative of a once conservative banking industry back the idea of extending credit to someone who hasn't asked for it."

Mobile X-ray Unit To Visit Two Cities

A mobile X-ray unit will visit Tiburon April 5 and Corte Madera on April 6 to make free X-rays, the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Association announced today.

The mobile unit, a green truck marked with the double barred cross of the Christmas Seal Association, will be stationed adjacent to Safeway Market, Tiburon Boulevard, from noon to 7 p.m. on April 5, and next to the self service post office in Corte Madera Center from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on April 6.

Senate Votes Bill Against Peddling Smut To Youth

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Legislation making it a crime to supply pornography to California youth — part of Gov. Ronald Reagan's antismut program — has moved to the Assembly after quick 26-6 passage in the Senate.

A key Senate committee also approved a bill to toughen up state law in line with a major U.S. Supreme Court decision on advertising material as obscene, the "Ginzberg" case.

Sen. Robert J. Lagomarsino, author of both measures, said the youth-and-obscenity bill basically makes it a crime to knowingly sell, distribute or loan "harmful matter" to those under 18 years old.

The Ojai Republican said the measure, which cleared the Senate 26-6, "focuses on large-scale distributors of smut," not, for example, on the corner drug store clerk.

The law would cover publications, drawings, movies, pictures and plays. First offense would be misdemeanor while subsequent violations would be felonies.

Sen. George Moscone, one of six Democrats who were the only opposition, contended that it seems inconsistent that "somehow you are not old enough to vote at 18 or 19 or 20, but you are old enough to read hard-core pornography."

The measure went to the Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee where a similar Senate bill died last year.

Sliding Fees For College?

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A state college fee hike proposal scaled to the student's family income was put forth today in the Assembly.

Under the plan proposed by Assembly Republican Leader Robert Monogan of Tracy, students from families with less than $10,000 annual income would pay an additional $30 a month.

The charges would increase to $55 for a $10,000 income to $630 for family earning of $50,000 or more.

His college fee proposal is parallel to one he offered to the University of California regents last January. The college charges would be levied only if the regents approve similar fees.

Office Prowled

The office of Operating Engineers Local 3 at 76 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, was reported broken into early today. Attempts were made to open a filing cabinet but nothing appeared stolen, said police.

Burglars Break Into Camper Truck In Hub

Burglars forced the rear door of a camper truck parked at 21 Mountain View Avenue, then looted it of about $100 worth of items, San Anselmo police reported today.

Byron E. Mason of Heber, Imperial County, said a $65 pair of binoculars, dishes and motor oil were looted from his truck Wednesday evening.

25 Sentenced After Frays At College

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sentences ranging from probation to jail terms and fines have been handed 25 persons arrested following disturbances last fall at San Francisco and San Jose state colleges.

Fifteen students and David Eakins, 43, an assistant history professor, were arrested in October during a protest against Dow Chemical Co. recruiters on the San Jose State campus.

All pleaded no contest to charges ranging from resisting arrest and disturbing the peace to malicious mischief.

Eakins was fined $150 yesterday and six persons were sentenced to jail terms varying from 5 to 15 days.

Nine young men who took part in an assault on the editor and his staff of the San Francisco State daily newspaper in November were sentenced to six-month county jail terms.

Municipal Judge Albert Axelrod then suspended the sentences and imposed a year of probation after they had changed their pleas to guilty of battery, a misdemeanor.

The attackers included Benjamin Stewart, chairman of the Black Students Union, and George Murray, head of the tutorial programs and a part-time faculty member.

Statement of Policy

Regarding Political Advertising

The Independent-Journal does not aggressively solicit or render copy writing service for political advertisements that are argumentative in content. Political advertisements are construed to be all assertions subject to public controversy, whether or not a public election is involved.

Any political advertisement that is not clearly the personal appeal of the elective candidate or candidates involved must show the name of the sponsoring group together with the name or names of one or more persons officiating for such group and their address.

Political advertisements must be submitted in complete and explicit form, ready for the printers, and clearly marked as to size and date of appearance. All political advertisements are payable in advance. Charges are figured at the regular rate.

Advertising deadlines are 4 p.m., two days preceding publication. As example: Tuesday advertisements must be in Friday at 4 p.m.; Monday advertisements must be in the preceding Friday morning. Any intervening holiday advances the deadline by a day.

No responsibility to show printer's proof is assumed under the above schedule.

If a proof is desired, advertisement must be submitted substantially in advance. Corrections, if any, must be ordered by 4 p.m., two working days preceding publication. Any changes from original copy will be charged for on basis of printing work involved.

On the last publication day before an election no political advertisement other than a simple statement of advocacy will be printed. As example: "Vote yes on proposition three," or "Elect John Jones," together with facts as to nature and time of election and, if desired, candidate's party affiliation or occupational identity.

Nearing a public election, no advertisement introducing a new controversial subject will be accepted to run later than the fourth publication day preceding the election. If any new statement or issue should be introduced on the fourth publication day preceding the election, attacking the opposing candidate or issue involved, the newspaper may, at its discretion, make allowance under this rule for the opposing side to answer.

Necessity for the newspaper's disinterested handling of political advertisements is readily apparent. These terms and conditions are adhered to in spirit of fairness to all.

BOLINAS SCHOOL PLAN—This artist's concept of the planned expansion of Bolinas School was prepared by Roy Stafford of Bolinas. The six-room expansion would put all the district's children in the same school. A $325,000 bond issue goes before voters on Tuesday.

Stinson, Bolinas Bond Vote Tuesday

For the third time in 13 months, Bolinas and Stinson Beach voters will go to the polls Tuesday to vote on a school construction bond issue.

This time the school district is seeking a $325,000 bond issue, an increase from the $275,000 issue defeated twice last year.

The bonds are to build six more classrooms, a library and an administrative office at Bolinas School.

The earlier bond proposal would have built four classrooms. All but three of the present permanent classrooms at Bolinas have been condemned for school use for failing to meet earthquake resistance standards.

The new construction will take $225,000 of the proposed bond issue. The rest will buy four acres around the present site for future expansion, plus furniture and equipment for the new construction.

With 11,000 square feet of new construction planned, the cost is approximately $19.50 a square foot, near the low end of the usual cost range of $17 to $35 a foot for school construction. Plans for the new space were drawn by district architect William Gillis.

The district is getting along now with portable classrooms for students forced out of the condemned building. Engineering studies show that the cost of repairing the condemned buildings at Bolinas and Stinson Beach schools would not be justified.

Adding to the classroom squeeze is a 50 per cent rise in student population in the past five years to the present 145.

The new construction would make a total of nine classrooms, three in the existing building, which would accommodate up to 185 students. The plan is to teach all grades in the school, bringing in first and second grade pupils now taught at Stinson Beach.

When the student population rises above 185, the district can raise the student-teacher ratio, use portables again to house the overflow, or build another six-room addition. The second addition would go on part of the four acres to be bought now. That would bring total school capacity to 250 to 270.

While there has been no organized opposition to the bonds, they drew only 54 per cent support last March and 56 per cent in June. The need a two-thirds majority for passage.

A breakdown of the bond issue shows $225,000 will be spent for the new classrooms, library and office; $56,500 for furniture, equipment, the four acres of land and a playground; $24,500 for fees, site preparation, soil tests and meeting legal requirements, and $19,000 for heating, plumbing, sanitation and reserve funds.

Cost of the bond issue would be 20 cents per $100 assessed valuation, a figure bond backers say means a cost of $10.12 a year on property with a market vale of $20,000. The district now has a general fund tax rate of $1.005 and a total rate of $2.195.

Thirteen of the county's school districts will have higher general fund tax rates than Bolinas-Stinson even if the bonds are passed, a pro-bond brochure points out.

The tax raise isn't an either/or proposition, according to Erik Lund of Stinson Beach. If the district turns down the bonds, taxes will rise anyway because the district will have to buy or lease more portables to handle the increasing student load.

A citizens committee has led the bond issue campaign, mailing brochures to district residents and speaking to local groups to explain the need for the new construction.

La Paz Student Exchange Sponsors Asked In Novato

An organization or chairman to head a group to sponsor the exchange of students this summer with La Paz, Baja California, Mexico, is being sought by Deputy Supt. Ralph Giovanniello of the Novato schools.

This is the result of a visit this week by Carlos Carmona, head of the John F. Kennedy Bilingual Library School in La Paz. Carmona has been instrumental in getting La Paz students to visit Novato for the past two years.

This year Carmona wanted to expand the program to have Novato children visit La Paz, Giovanniello said. Carmona said that the residents of La Paz were prepared to take about 20 Novato children.

"I would rather start with fewer children, say five, and have some adults accompany them," Giovanniello said.

Carmona said he had quarters available for 12 teachers from the Novato schools if they would teach English two hours each day in his scohol, according to Giovanniello. Teachers would have to pay their own expenses except for their lodging, he said.

For the past two years, Novato has played host to La Paz children, with more than 20 coming each year. These visits were the outgrowth of many visits of Mexican children to Novato over several years.

Mrs. Beverly Ereth, sixth grade teacher at Pleasant Valley School, started the informal visits as an exchange with a sister grade school in Mexico City when she taught at West Novato School.

Carmona, who returned to La Paz yesterday, visited several schools in Novato and saw three La Paz children, who are spending the school year in Novato.

Lawmakers Seek Credit File Control

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation to outlaw the use of credit ratings for purposes unrelated to credit checks was introduced yesterday by Assemblymen William T. Bagley, R-San Rafal, and Harvey Johnson, D-El Monte.

The bill also would require credit rating organizations to notify persons of derogatory items which are entered in their files in order to guard against mistaken identities or other inaccuracies. Personal medical and social problems are often included in credit rating files along with financial data, Bagley noted.

"Indiscriminate invasions of computerized credit files just can't be condoned," commented Bagley. Both legislators noted that the use of credit information "to get a line" on prospective jurors in court cases, or even on likely candidates for marriage, was all too common.

"Unless a subpoena is presented to the credit organization," said Johnson, "I can see no justification for making personal information available to anyone on request."

Johnson previously authored legislation giving individuals the right to correct inaccuracies or omissions which may have prevented them from obtaining credit from retailers.

LBJ's Grandson Fighting Virus

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Johnson's grandson, Patrick Lyndon Nugent, is suffering from a viral infection and has a 102-degree temperature but is feeling better, his mother reported today.

Luci Johnson Nugent, 20, gave the report on her 9-month-old son's condition as she met on the White House lawn with a group of contestants for the title of "Miss International Teenager."

Luci told reporters "we had sort of suspected that the baby had a virus infection," and a doctor confirmed it. Lyn had a 104-degree temperature earlier in the week before medication was started.

Fulbright Files For Re-Election

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (UPI) —Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., told students in his home state last night he will find it difficult to advocate the nomination of any candidate committed to the administration's policy in Vietnam, including President Johnson.

Fulbright, the 62-year-old chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has criticized the escalation of U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

He filed yesterday morning in Little Rock for re-election to a fifth term and said he did not intend to bolt the party and would support its nominees.

After filing, he said President Johnson might have a difficult time getting the nomination unless he altered his Vietnam policy.

19 High School Seniors In Zone Finals For Awards

Marin high school seniors will be competing for zone titles in the annual Bank of America Achievement Awards competition at the College of Marin Thursday.

Zone winners will be chosen by Dr. Dudley Moore and Carlton Spridgen of Santa Rosa, Wishard A. Brown of San Rafael, Publisher of the Independent-Journal; Mrs. Helen Putnam of Petaluma, and San Anselmo Mayor Arthur W. Smith, judges.

Winners will be in four fields of study — fine arts, science and mathematics, vocational arts and liberal arts. Judging will start at 1 p.m.

Winners will advance to area finals where they are assured of a $150 minimum award and a chance to compete for grants of $1,000. Second and third place winners in each field will receive $50 and $25 respectively.

Marin seniors participating will be:

Fine arts — David Gilliam, Tamalpais High School; Anne Hiaring, Sir Francis Drake High School; Jay Lehmann, San Rafael High School, and Ellen Ostern, Terra Linda High School.

Science and mathematics — Robert Anderson, Novato High School; Gloria Burns, Terra Linda High School; John Cumming, Marin Catholic High School; James McGinnis, San Rafael High School; Kim Mitchell, Sir Francis Drake High School.

Liberal arts — Norah Angress, Tomales High School; Wynne Hayakawa-, Tamalpais High School; Patricia Sempell, San Rafael High School; Leslie Sherman, Novato High School, and Alice Williams, San Domenico School for Girls, San Anselmo.

Vocational arts — Kristine Long, Sir Francis Drake High School; Linda O'Leal, Terra Linda High School; Nancy Taverna, San Rafael High School; Betty Uithof, Tamalpais High School and Lynn Welter, Novato High School.

Meeting Delayed

Brown Act Extension Scrapes By

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation to extend the state's anti-secret meeting law to local advisory bodies yesterday passed the Assembly with the bare 41 voters needed.

The author of the bill, Assemblyman James A. Hayes, R-Long Beach, had to promise to amend it in the Senate in order to get it past the Assembly. Many assemblymen, including supporters of the bill, said it will fail in the upper house.

Critics of the measure claim it is an unwarranted expansion of the Ralph M. Brown Act, which bars governmental agencies from conducting secret meetings except to hear charges against an officer or employee, or to consider hiring or firing.

Hayes said the Brown Act is being circumvented when boards of supervisors, city councils and other local agencies appoint advisory committees. These committees meet without public notice of their meetings, and then their recommendations are adopted by the governmental agencies without public hearings, said Hayes.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Delicate Balance' Shows Albee Depth

By KARL BARRON

SAN FRANCISCO — After viewing Edward Albee's "A Delicate Balance" in a splendidly staged production by the American Conservatory Theater at the Marines, it is easy to see why this incisive drama won a Pulitzer prize.

The overblown violence of "Virginia Woolf" has been toned down, the crudities of "American Dream" eliminated, and the vague mysticisms of "Tiny Alice" forgotten. Instead, Albee concentrates on digging into the depths of his characters, still using the basic technique of "Virginia Woolf." That is, to allow his characters to attack each other verbally in open ways that we seldom dare in real life because we fear the consequences, or are sidetracked by confused semantics.

The simple basic of Albee's plot is a man and woman who, for no explainable reason, become strangely afraid of being alone, and move in on their friends — their premise being that this is what friends are for.

The family which Harry and Edna join consists of Agnes and Tobias, the husband and wife, Claire, the alcoholic sister of Agnes, and Julia, divorced daughter of Tobias and Agnes, who after each marriage failure, comes running home.

Agnes, haunted by a fear of insanity, is the top sergeant of the household, ruling with rationale. Claire is the observer, watching life pass through the distorted rim of her glass. Harry and Edna remain somewhat indefinite characters, motivated mysteriously, and after moving into the house, taking it over with the unconcern of an invading army. Julia is a spoiled, 32-year-old brat.

Tobias is Albee's ambiguity — the American male. The playwright regards him as at least partially emasculated. Agnes explains her theory of the male — "Men's lives simply consist of making ends meet until they meet their ends."

Albee's imagery is great at times, as is Tobias' tale of a cat he once had which ceased liking him. His rhetoric is excessive at other times.

And although Albee has a character ask, "Do we dislike happiness, that we manufacture such despair?" he ends upon a rising, optimistic note.

This is the first time I have seen Robert Gerringer in a lead role. His Tobias is a masterpiece of understated intensity. Josephine Nichols presents a powerful and, at the same time, understanding portrait of Agnes. Ellen Geer is excellent as Julia, and Patricia Falkenhain is just right as Edna.

Industry Aid Bonds Losing Tax Break

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate, in an overnight reversal, has decided to allow the Treasury Department to eliminate the tax exempt status of industrial bonds used by many states and communities to lure new industries.

The Senate, by a 50 to 32 vote yesterday, took the action after voting Wednesday to tell the Treasury to do nothing about changing the status of the bonds until directed by Congress.

The amendment, offered by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., was tacked onto a bill extending auto and telephone excise taxes.

It would order the Treasury to do what it already has announced it wanted to do—collect income taxes on interest paid on the development bonds.

Treasury officials contend that the tax-free development bonds stifle the sales of other community bonds such as those to pay for school construction and sewer systems.

The only difference between the Ribicoff plan and what the Treasury Department wants is the date the new tax would go into effect.

CONCERT REVIEW

Chance To Compare Coast's Orchestras

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

A stunning performance of Stravinsky's "Le Sacre du Printemps" in all its barbaric pagan splendor was the main reason Wednesday night why the engagement with the Los Angeles Philharmonic was, as expected, one of the highlights of the current symphony season.

While Maestro Krips and the San Francisco Symphony are performing in the Los Angeles subsciption series and other Southern California communities, Indian-born Zubin Mehta and his 105-member orchestra are presenting the regular series this week at the opera house, plus one program at Foothill College tomorrow.

COMPARISONS HARD

Comparisons of the two orchestras are inevitable, though they cannot be totally valid when different works are involved. Comparing last night's concert with some of the best given by the San Francisco Symphony this season — the one directed by Seiji Ozawa for example — we believe our San Francisco orchestra is the better when it is fully inspired.

When Ozawa takes over in San Francisco in 1970 comparisons will be even more interesting, for the two conductors have many points in common. Both are young — 32 — with energy packed frames, and possess a flair for bold, large scale works especially from the late 19th and early 20th centuries. Both also have a phenomenal ability to direct the most intricate works from memory.

MEHTA CONTROLLED

"Le Sacre du Printemps, or "The Rite of Spring," was a test of this ability. In fact, Mehta directed the entire program from memory. His conducting last night, while charged with high voltage in this work, seemed far more controlled and without the showmanship gyrations for the audience, than in earlier performances. In the other two numbers on the program he was poised and almost cool.

All of the choirs of the orchestra in the Stravinsky work were tremendously impressive with superlative performances by the woodwinds, brasses and percussion.

BRAHM'S WORK

The other major number on the program, Brahms' symphony No. 3 in F Major, Opus 90, was another matter. It was enjoyable, but we believe a performance of it by the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra under Krips would have been more satisfying. Perhaps this was because Mehta's forte is not intellectual detail, but passion and sound ranging from fine spun pianissimos to crashing fortissimos.

The concert opened with the delicate "summer" movement, really a violin concerto, with harpsichord, that featured concertmaster David Frisina as the violin soloist.

Here again a comparison was interesting. Of the concertmasters of the San Francisco and Los Angeles orchestras, Frisina's style is elegant rather than dynamic and fiery as is that of Krachmalnick, and Frisina is never heard above the rest of the violins when he is playing with them.

Draft May Hit Grads Heavily

WASHINGTON (UPI) —More than half the men to be drafted into the armed services during the coming fiscal year probably will be college graduates, according to defense department estimates.

These estimates assume that the great majority of the more than 225,000 potential graduate students recently made ineligible for further draft deferments will prefer induction to enlistment.

This could bring the number of college graduates to as many as 150,000 out of a total draft of 241,000 predicted for fiscal 1969, which begins July 1. Thus the proportion of draftees who are college graduates would jump from 5 to 60 per cent, Defense manpower experts said.

U.C. Course On King Attacked

BERKELEY (AP) — A University of California course to study Dr. Martin Luther King's approaching mass demonstration in Washington has drawn fire from Congressman James B. Utt, R-Calif.

The lawmaker declared that the students would be brainwashed by leaders of the demonstration and that the whole thing would be a "waste of taxpayers' money."

U.C. Vice Chancellor Neil J. Smelser said, "Congressman Utt seems to be confusing the purposes of the demonstration with the purposes of the course."

Smelser said the students would go to Washington "not as participants, but as objective observers."

He said a similar class would be sent from Stanford.

TWA introduces "Foreign Accent" flights inside USA.

Announcing the end of routine air travel: Starting April 1st, you can fly non-stop from San Francisco to New York or Chicago on one of our new "Foreign Accent" flights. But you won't know which till one of these gorgeous creatures welcomes you aboard. Now that kind of makes routine air travel not-so-routine, doesn't it?

The flights come in four styles with hostesses to match: Italian (see toga), French (see gold mini), Olde English (see wench). And the Manhattan Penthouse (see hostess pajamas). Hostesses should look like hostesses, right?

You'll find a whole new atmosphere throughout the plane, first-class and coach. Foreign music. Foreign magazines and newspapers. Foreign touches all around. And the best in foreign cuisine. (Yes, you may still enjoy a steak broiled to order. That's a TWA specialty.) All in all, TWA's new "Foreign Accent" flights bring you the best the world has to offer. And if you're as bored with routine flying as we think you are, you're ready for it.

Call us at 388-3723 or Mr. Information (your travel agent). He knows all about it.

State Prisons 'Futility' Condemned

law enforcement program does the job of reducing prison population.

The report virtually abandons as a failure the trend to longer prison sentences in recent years in California.

The report expresses disturbing doubts about the reality of procedures used by the state parole agency, the adult authority, in making decisions on whether men will or will not remain in prison.

One of the salient recommendations of the research report, which was released two weeks ago by the Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee, is for mandatory parole of lesser offenders when they have completed time of their indeterminate sentences.

In the present system, hardly any felons are ever paroled or discharged in the minimum time. Convicts go from year to year without ever knowing how much time they have to serve. Only when a felon is paroled does he learn what his actual sentence is, the remainder of his time before permanent discharge.

"The parole board," says the report, "operates without a clear and rationally justified policy. Responsibility for decisions involving deep considerations of justice, public safety and cost is vested in a board legally and scientifically unequipped to justify any policy towards less serious offenders.

"As a result, California general parole policy, reflecting emotion, not facts, has become increasingly conservative, punitive and expensive.

"Median time served has increased from 24 months in 1960 to 30 months in 1966. Between 1959 and 1965, early returns to prison for parole violations doubled, while commitments for new felony offenses remained the same."

The report concedes that the parole board is best able to establish the reasons why a convict should not be eligible for parole. "The aggressive history of an individual is a reasonable, though imperfect, basis for decision about his release or non-release into the community," says the report.

Its recommendation for mandatory parole of lesser offenders at the minimum length of sentence makes an exception of convicts whose reasons for ineligibility would be most obvious. Excepted from mandatory parole would be "those convicted of willful homicide, aggravated assault, forcible rape and other specified crimes of serious personal violence, and those with histories of professional criminality or habitual extreme violence."

It's in the area of deciding what makes a convict an eligible parole applicant that the adult authority is on weakest ground, says the report.

"The board's eligibility criteria consists of evidence of past 'good behavior' in institutions (a criteria rejected by many authorities), plus parole board 'knowledge' of the personal situation to which the parolee is about to be released . . .

"This evidence is conjectural in a way that ineligibility criteria are not. It consists of guesses about future situations and guesses about the parolee's responses to them.

"Eligibility criteria are not scientific. When applied to lesser offenders they cannot distinguish between individuals either with justice or with practicality."

The report recommends that the adult authority be relieved of "responsibility for decision making on arbitrary or controversial basis."

The report declares, "The direct implication of the increasingly successful use of probation and early parole is that most of the lesser offenders presently imprisoned could be released immediately without serious consequences."

The savings, estimates the report, "would make possible the reallocation of up to $40 million annually from prison expenditures to more effective crime control efforts." The report sets up a percentage formula for allocation of the savings to those efforts.

The report states flatly that there is no statistical evidence that long sentences rehabilitate anyone or deter anyone from commiting crime. It says there is every indication "the important elements of deterrence and rehabilitation lie elsewhere."

The report cites instances where the early release or parole of prison inmates produced evidence that their recidivism or return rate, was less than the average recidivism rate, which is about 35 per cent.

In 1959, the California parole agency for women changed parole policies, reducing the median term from 24 months in 1957-59 to 12 months by 1965.

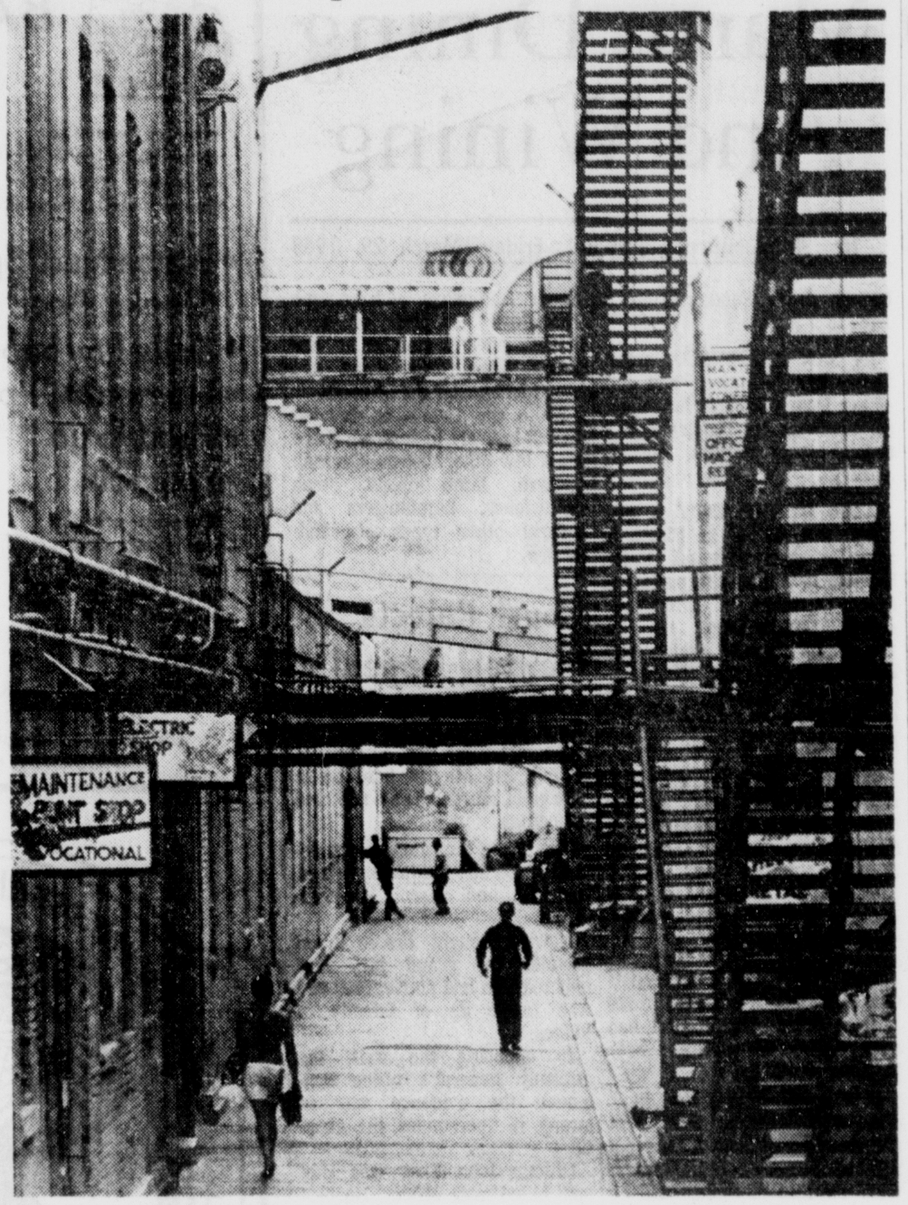
The prison return rate for those women dropped from 35.3 per cent in 1959 to 28.8 per cent in 1964.

"Institutions tend to isolate offenders from society, both physically and psychologically, cutting them off from school, jobs, families and other supportive influences and increasing the probability that the label of criminal will be indelibly impressed upon them.

"There is convincing evidence that probation and parole agents can deal effectively with both juveniles and adults when the agents have sufficient time for close supervision.

"The crime problem and the best rehabilitation possibilities are in the community. Some of the public money now spent on the maintenance of lesser offenders in state prisons should be spent on the local prevention of crime.

"What is often neglected in official statements is not that prisons fail to rehabilitate, but the active nature of the destruction that occurs in prisons."



SAN QUENTIN ALLEY—This bleak alley is between two of the aged buildings at San Quentin Prison. A new legislative report recommends money saving prison reforms, suggests that the prison be closed rather than spend $20 to $30 million to bring it up to standard. Slingshot's Use Leads To Trouble

Two nine-year-old boys, one from Belvedere and the other from Tiburon, were cited to the Marin County Juvenile Bureau yesterday by sheriff's deputies on a charge of hitting a moving car with a rock propelled by a slingshot.

Miriam G. Bodian of 88 Round Hill Road, Tiburon, told deputies a side window of her car was broken on Tiburon Boulevard in front of Reed School at 12:45 p.m.

A witness described the two boys who had been seen using the slingshot and they were picked up at their homes by Deputy Ronald C. Spurrell.

Chemical Mace Brings Complaints Of Injury

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Mace, a chemical spray used by law enforcement agencies to subdue disturbances, can cause permanent eye damage, an eye doctor said yesterday.

Aerosol cans of Mace are carried by most Marin County law officers.

Dr. Lawrence Rose, an ophthalmologist, said in a press conference at the Good Samaritan Episcopal Church that Mace can cause permanent scarring of the eye's cornea, second degree burns and has pronounced toxic effects on the central nervous system.

A suit may be brought against the San Francisco Police Department to stop its use of the chemical, said Dr. Rose. The press conference was organized by the Medical Committee for Human Rights.

Dr. Rose charged police with "indiscriminately using a toxic drug." Its safety should be tested before it is used further, he said.

Although Marin County law officers are equipped with Mace, it has been used infrequently in the county, according to police chiefs here, and never with any report of injury.

"We've used Mace on four occasions to subdue people who were attacking police officers," Chief Raymond R. Buchignani of the San Anselmo Police Department said. "There have been no complaints of injury."

Deputy Chief Joseph J. Brusatori of the San Rafael police said his officers have also used Mace about four times, most recently to stop a suspected burglar who was fleeing arrest.

"The officer chose to use Mace instead of shooting the suspect," Brusatori said.

County Health Officer Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht said she could understand physicians' concern about the use of Mace but that "all weapons are dangerous."

Passer-By Grabs Student On Span

A San Francisco State College student was grabbed by a motorist last night when he was seen standing outside a railing on the Golden Gate Bridge.

The student, John E. Gaylord, 23, of 181 Deer Hollow Road, San Anselmo, had parked his car in mid-span about 8:30 p.m., highway patrolmen reported. Harry Dixon, a San Francisco motorist, said he noticed Gaylord, grabbed him and pulled him over the railing, on the west side of the span.

Marinite Loses Eye In Vietnam

Clyde Severin Morrison, 20-year-old Marin paratrooper, has been wounded in Vietnam and has suffered the loss of his left eye, his parents have been informed.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morrison, 170 Belvedere Avenue, Belvedere. His grandmother, Mrs. Eugene Severin, lives in Sausalito.

A graduate of Redwood High School, he entered the service a year ago.

Court Hearing Set On Burglary Attempt

James C. Orchard, 22, of Larkspur, is to appear Monday in Marin Superior Court for arraignment on a charge that he tried to burgle Booby's Restaurant at 3641 Redwood Highway, Los Ranchitos, March 18.

He has been held to answer on the charge after a preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court.

Venerable Blue Rock Inn Offers Nostalgia Along With Good Food

It may not be technically correct to say that the Blue Rock Inn of Larkspur is the oldest restaurant in Marin County, but there is no denying that it is in the senior category.

Such places as Deer Park Villa, Fairfax; Alta Mira Hotel and probably Casa Madrona Hotel, Sausalito; Inverness Lodge at the coast; Galli's, West End Villa are old timers and Black Point Inn should be among them, though it has not always been a food establishment.

I'm not even sure that historian Florence Donnelly could put her finger on the oldest surviving Marin restaurant. There are too many variables such as inactive periods between owners, other businesses on the premises and the contradictory statements of oldtimers who will often recall a dozen different dates for the same event.

No matter, the Blue Rock is a time-honored establishment esteemed by its habitues. It is one place you can visit today and still see many of the same faces (older, of course) that you saw there a decade or more ago.

Today's owner, John Weiland, has only been there three years, but he is a genial host who somehow fits in the picture almost as though it had been sketched around him. So does bartender Pete Le Frois. This is fortunate for a place like the Blue Rock, for its secret lies not so much in making changes but in making them while seeming to maintain the status quo. Even newcomers likely will feel a certain sense of nostalgia.

The old rinky-tink piano has been deposed to the back room and replaced with a modern pianobar, but pianobar sounds are not necessarily rock and jive. English pianist Johnny Robinson roves through the songs of three generations and several nationalities.

All this and not one word so far about the food. I hadn't meant to avoid that issue and won't. The menu selections are items you recognize— steaks, veal scallopini, chicken, abalone, prawns.

The chef knows his job. Ed Harper, formerly of the Franciscan and Pine Tree in San Francisco and Interstate Hosts, doesn't let you down.

TIMMIE IS BACK. The runaway monkey of Franchini's Chateau, after roaming the Gallinas hills since he escaped from his cage about a month ago, was finally captured at the Silveira Ranch, less than a mile away from his home base. Actually he seems to be quite happy the whole thing is over. And why not? Where is he going get such food as at Franchini's?

Meanwhile the Chateau is preparing for its usual big Easter doings, only two weeks away. Brunch this year will be served from 9:15 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. (a little later than last year) and a special Easter dinner menu will prevail from 2:30 p.m.

Reservations are strongly advised. Last year was a sellout.

New regular dinner and Friday seafood menus are now in effect. My choice for the best addition — and sure to become popular — lobster tail and steak brochettes with rice.

THERE IS A CHANGE of ownership in Murphy's Cafe, 60 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera. Later there probably will be a change of name, also.

Shirley Murphy has sold out to Tony Valenzuela of Mill Valley, who has been cooking things for 15 years. He did it for 12 years in the service and recently has been at Pat and Joe's Restaurant, Mill Valley. He is talking about changing from Murphy's to Tony's Carousel.

Breakfast lunch and dinner are served. Hours are from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Mondays through Fridays, to 4 p.m. on Saturdays; closed Sundays. Specialties are omelets and club sandwiches. It's a small place, but don't judge it by the size.

TONIGHT and tomorrow night the Ark in Sausalito features Sky Blue from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. and The Wedge on the breakfast show from 2 to 6 a.m.

The Wedge will also be on the 9 to 2 schedule for Sunday, April 1, through next Thursday.

MARIN AUTHOR, Kenneth Lamott, judge for Sabella's Biggest Fish Story Ever Told, has come up with a winner and three honorable mentions. First prize, a Schwinn bicycle, was taken by Theresa Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grego A. Harrison Jr. of San Rafael. Her story, "Marty the Smarty," will appear on the back of Sabella's next children's menu when it is published.

Runners-up were Lance Toncre of Mill Valley, Frances Hartogh of Sausalito and Jonathon Fong of Novato.

STARTING THIS WEEK, Inn Marin (formerly Cherish Inn) at Strawberry Town and Country Village is offering a special fizz brunch every Sunday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

IN SAN FRANCISCO, actor-singer Noel Harrison and folk singer Penny Nichols have joined forces at the Hungry I in a special song festival, through April 13.

ALSO IN THE CITY, a new restaurant, called 21 Flags, is soon to open just off Union Square. It will be the prototype for a number of franchised outlets specializing in international dishes which are traditional favorites. The company is a subsidiary of Di Giorgio Corp. and S and W Fine Foods, Inc.

THERE SEEMS TO BE renewed interest lately in the former Pandora Restaurant in San Anselmo. There's no smoke in the chimney yet, but I shouldn't be surprised to find someone lighting up the kitchen stove by this summer.

THE RECENTLY OPENED Grotto Seafood Restaurant at 909 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, has now received its wine and beer license.

Ursula and Stan Valan have done well here in their first month of operation, even without wine and beer. Indications are that this place will be successful. They watch the quality and preparation of their food closely.

A new special on the lunch and dinner Mondays through Thursdays is filet of sole, French fries, tartar sauce and lemon, along with salad and bread and butter for 99 cents.

While the Grotto is devoted almost entirely to seafood, there are a few other dishes—German goulash, lamb chops, steak sandwiches, hamburgers and several other types of sandwiches.

Students Set Up Kennedy Backing

A "Students for Kennedy" group has been formed in Marin to support the primary campaign of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

Bob Roth, publicity chairman, reported about 50 high school students attended a meeting in San Anselmo Wednesday sponsored by the Marin County Citizens for Kennedy.

Elected chairman of the group was Joan Diamond of 30 Ichabod Court, San Anselmo, a student at Sir Francis Drake High School.

Court Rejects Newton Appeal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Black Panther leader Huey P. Newton, 26, has lost his appeal to halt his May 6 trial on a charge of murdering an Oakland policeman.

The State Supreme Court denied yesterday Newton's writ of mandate and offered no comment.

Newton sought the writ on grounds the grand jury that indicted him had no Negroes and was made up of friends of judges.

In opposing the writ, the attorney general's office contended the evidence was so strong it "persuades the skeptic."

Officer John Frey was shot and killed and officer Herbert Heanes was wounded last Oct. 28 after they stopped a car to arrest its occupants on minor charges.

Probation Given In Child Dispute

Samson Sargis, the 42-year-old merchant mariner once accused of stealing his 5-year-old son from his ex-wife Lila Sargis of Mill Valley, has been placed on informal probation in Marin Municipal Court.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Robert Birkie said Wednesday a misdemeanor charge that Sargis violated a court order which restricted visiting rights with his son, Gabril, will be dismissed Dec. 31, if Sargis stays clear of trouble.

A felony charge that Sargis stole the boy April 21 has been dismissed by Judge Hadden W. Roth of Municipal Court. The boy was returned to the mother July 11, unharmed.

Tighter Open Meeting Bill Introduced

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Sen. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, has introduced a bill in the Legislature that would require open meetings of subcommittees of city councils, boards of supervisors or other public agencies, when less than a quorum of members was present.

Marks introduced his bill at a time when a less severe bill in the Assembly, by Assemblyman James A. Hayes, R-Long Beach, was in trouble in the lower house. Hayes bill would require open meetings of special advisory boards or commissions appointed by public agencies.

"The legislative counsel has clearly stated that the practice of holding secret closed meetings of subcommittees of legislative bodies is illegal and I have asked for an opinion from the attorney general," Marks said.

"I have introduced this legislation because I have been advised by Richard Carpenter, of the League of California Cities, that his organization, representing over 400 cities throughout the state, does not intend to comply with the legislative counsel's opinion or any opinion of the attorney general on the same subject, and that they would only conform to a court decision requiring such meetings to be open," Marks said.

"Under such circumstances, I see no reason to await additional opinions. I completely disagree with the position of the League of California Cities."

Charisma, Dedication, And The Non-Raise

Nearly every chair in the board room of the San Rafael City Schools administration building was filled Tuesday night as Ann Philbert described to the board of education the process of screening applicants for teaching jobs.

Mrs. Philbert's talk was part of a presentation on teacher recruitment and training.

She described the "pupil orientation" and "dedication" sought in new teachers, in addition to academic accomplishment, and how the interviewer tries to determine them.

"We want teachers with charisma," she said. "To find this, I think you have to go to a sixth sense."

When she had finished, board chairman Lawrence I. Kramer wondered out loud how many of the 40-odd teachers hired annually for the city schools are "such paragons." Supt. John F. Plank said he thought it was a high percentage. San Rafael attracts good teacher applicants, he said.

ALL THIS WAS in strange contrast to what had gone just before.

The preceding item was listed on the board's agenda as "teacher reaction to salary schedule."

Two weeks earlier, the board had adopted a new salary schedule with a revision of steps, greater monetary rewards for advanced study, and longevity bonuses for those who remain in the city schools after reaching the limit of steps on the schedule.

The new schedule increased starting pay from $5,800 to $6,300. The top step on the ladder (without bonuses or extra duty pay) went up from $12,480 to $12,600. Board member Herman L. Childress Jr. said all this added 5 per cent to average teacher pay.

BUT ON TUESDAY NIGHT, the board was presented with a petition of protest, signed by 62 Terra Linda High School teachers, against "serious inequities" in the new schedule.

The trouble, said Sam Wilcox, spokesman for the protestors, was that some teachers near the top of the old schedule would receive less than one per cent increases under the new. This, he claimed, applied to 38 percent of Terra Linda High's 96 teachers.

Discussion produced an interesting disclosure: Teachers, or some of them anyhow, do not regard their annual advance to the next step on the salary scale as a raise in pay. One objector made that plain in questions to the board.

The annual step is about $300, or itself a 5 per cent raise for a teacher getting $6,000 (scale 2, step 1 under the old schedule).

The protesting teachers, however, felt this should not be counted as a raise.

Somewhat flabbergasted, board member Childress demanded, "It's spendable, isn't it?"

THE BOARD RECESSED the meeting for a coffee break after the recruiting and training presentation. When the session resumed, most of the seats were empty. They had been filled earlier by Terra Linda High School teachers who came to protest about the "serious" inequities" in the pay scale.

After the meeting, a veteran San Rafael High School teacher (one who definitely has charisma) commented on this bitterly. Too many of the teachers, he complained, show interest only in their own salaries.

Perhaps there is something the screening process misses.

Marin's Unmusical Larks

Marin's horned lark may be happy, but its feeble song resembles the chirping of a tired baby chick. It is a far cry from the full-throated melody of his dazzling cousin, the western meadow lark.

The two birds are quite similar in appearance. However, the horned lark has one feature which sets him apart from the rest of the bird world and from which he derives his name.

The "horns" are tufts of feathers which lay flat against the bird's head most of the time but which stand up during courtship.

It seems that even an unmusical lark doesn't have to be a dullard around the lady larks.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Computerized Bill Handling Seen In Future Of Legislature

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — State Sen. Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, speaker pro tempore of the Senate, took occasion this week to compliment the Senate rules advisory committee for its recommendations of upper house procedures.

No doubt the Senate, when it provided for the advisory committee, felt the time had long since passed when something of that nature should be undertaken. The Senate now operates in an ornate chamber, reminiscent of the 1800s, with part of its illumination provided by gas-light.

Although the Assembly for a good many years has operated with a push-button roll call, the Senate has stayed with the slow-moving voice roll. Other areas of possible modernization have been by-passed by the senators, who like things the way they are and always have been.

HOWEVER, a new day has dawned, and the Senate recognizes this by the very fact it authorized what in effect amounts to an efficiency survey. Now that the survey has been completed, Senator Burns says it has brought to light "administrative problems of which we have been vaguely aware, but unable to come to grips with" and some "thoughtful proposals for overcoming these problems."

One of the committee's suggestions was that the Senate consider installation of a computerized legislative information system, which Burns said was a proposal "Everybody could sink their teeth into."

Electronic data processing devices would make accurate information available to all concerned at the push of a button.

"Bad bills would have a rough time trying to find a place to hide with such a system in use," commented Burns.

IT WILL TAKE a long time for the more advanced suggestions propounded by the advisory committee to take hold, as not only the Senate, but the state itself is reluctant to make innovations.

The idea of a computerized information system isn't a new one. In fact, it has been before the Legislature and administration for nearly three years in some detail. Initial cost to the taxpayers has been one of the things that has held up speedier progress.

However, the administration is proceeding with plans for eventual computerized data processing information services on a co-ordinated basis, and it doesn't take too much of a look into the future to visualize the time when virtually all functions of state government will be computerized.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Tiburon Bridge For Rapid Transit

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Because of your interest and mine in Bay Area transportation problems, I am writing you and wish to state my plan, namely, a second crossing to Marin County.

I do believe a double deck, high-level bridge, on the order of the new San Mateo-Hayward bridge over Alcatraz and Angel Island to Tiburon, built to carry rapid transit trains on the lower deck is needed now. (See accompanying map.)

Ways and means must be found now to reorganize and finance the original nine Bay Area County Rapid Transit plan including this second Marin crossing, a double deck bridge, not just a seventy-five mile system. A second deck on the Golden Gate bridge or an underwater tube are not feasible.

The ferry system would only prove to be an added expense to the property owner and the taxpayer; wages and maintenance costs of the ferries would fall on the counties. Because of the inconvenience of this system they would not be patronized by the majority of commuters. I do believe the ferries would be a waste of money — no matter how modern or what speed they may maintain; due to fog on the bay at times, these ferries must travel at reduced speeds, often delaying them for hours.

The ferries were found inadequate in the past . . . The money spent on this outmoded means of transportation could be better utilized in building a modern Rapid Transit train system throughout the Bay Area which eventually must be constructed in order to solve the transportation problem. . .

The second Marin crossing would also care for added vehicular traffic which will increase in the future and is bound to continue to find its way through San Francisco regardless.

The completion of the Embarcadero Freeway and its connecting to this crossing will be the means of a great amount of this vehicular traffic bypassing the heart of this city.

Sick Humor Regarding Paupers

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Today in San Rafael I noticed a large sign which said: "Help the War on Poverty — Kill a Pauper."

Being a pauper, I didn't take kindly to this. Seriously, though, it seemed to me that this sort of humor is an attempt at justifying an irascibility on the part of some of us, or rather, a sort of laughing in the dark in hope that whatever's there might think we're friendly.

Bullfight On TV Shakes Up Viewer

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I spent a sleepless night last Saturday. I was disgusted and nauseated. I chanced to watch the bullfights, at 10:30 p.m. on Channel 36 TV.

Maybe all people don't know what bullfights are, in my opinion, they are a torture session for the bull. The bull in the end does not even benefit from a quick death. Bullfights are an exhibition of the most barbarous holdovers from ancient times! . . .

The program was even more disgusting for the fact that it affected me, for in the end I found myself wishing the bull would gore the fighter.

If what I have written so far does not inspire you, try this on for size. The following were sponsors for the program: (1.) U.S. Savings Bonds; (2.) The President's Commission on Mental Retardation; (3.) National Rifle Association . . .

In closing, I would like to say, this matter is not far removed from all that is heavy on our hearts today. Cruelty can grip one's body like cancer and destroy as it grows!

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I'm so glad to see your new movie reviews. My only question is why did it take you so long to decide to use such a reliable source? I would enjoy seeing more on what the (Marin Motion Picture) Council is doing. Three cheers for you on being so aware!

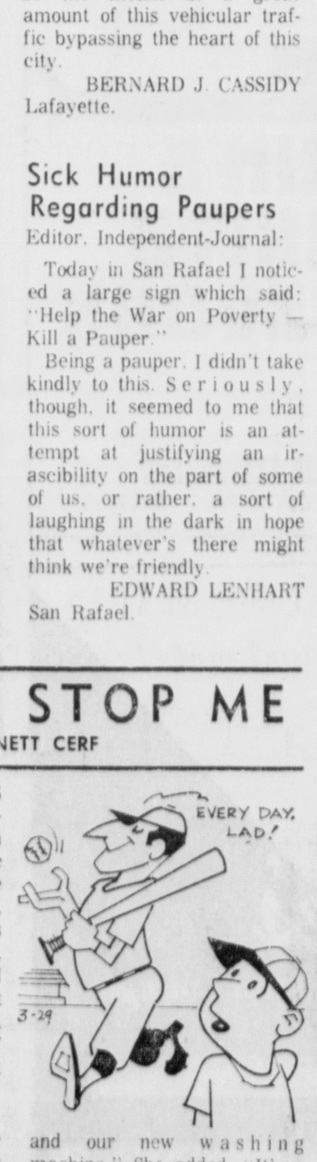
TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

ONE OF THE REASONS why Stan Musial was a superstar in baseball for years on end was that he had supreme confidence in himself. Before one game in the St. Louis park, a newcomer on the Cardinals roster told Musial happily, "Goliy, I feel great today! I feel like I'm gonna bang out four hits in a row. Hey, Stan, do you ever fell that way?" "Yes," admitted Musial. "Every day!"



A young wife boasted, "My husband is a genius at fixing things. Last week, for instance, he fixed the vacuum cleaner and our new washing machine." She added, "It's a good thing he could. He was the only one using them."

The Two Johnsons —Except On Vietnam

By PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Heavily burdened with more fast-moving crises than any previous White House occupant, President Johnson gives the appearance at times of being two different persons.

An illuminating contrast of the "two Johnsons" came recently when, within a few days, the president met at the White House with members of the National Negro Newspaper Publishers Association and later with Democratic congressional leaders.

TO THE NEGRO publishers, the president urged all-out efforts by them to get more funds for his "Great Society" programs of education, health, job opportunities, and anti-poverty.

When John H. Murphy III, president of the newspaper group, asked what he and his associates could do to help, the president suggested they work on their congressmen.

"Buttonhole them," is the way the president put it. "Let them know that you want these programs provided with enough money to do the job and do it now. They should be given the highest priority."

The president predicted that if his programs are properly funded by Congress, "the summer will be quiet and we can forget about disorder."

The publishers, meeting here in connection with Negro Press Week, were urged by the president to support his proposed 10 per cent tax surcharge "to pay for these programs."

MEETING FOUR nights later with his Democratic legislative leaders in the same White House cabinet room where he had greeted the newsmen, the President took a completely opposite position on domestic spending.

While continuing to ask swift action on his proposed tax hike, the president said he was willing to make whatever cuts were necessary "in my 'Great Society' programs to get the revenue boost."

"We must increase taxes within the next 30 days in order to bolster world confidence in the dollar," urged the president. "I am ready to accept whatever must be done in the way of cutting down on domestic spending to get a tax boost. Stability of the dollar must be our first goal. Social programs can be temporarily deferred."

The president, whose voice ranged from barely audible to strong and emphatic, told the Senate-House leaders he was lukewarm toward the recommendations of his Commission on Civil Disorders.

"Just because Bobby Kennedy endorses that report doesn't mean that I should. Several of the commission's recommendations are very radical. There just isn't enough money now available to implement them and fight a war in Vietnam."

In sharp contrast, the president in his meeting with the publishers had lavished praise on the commission's report as: "The most important one made to me since I became president. It should have a profound impact on the country."

"Ask your congressmen to get busy and implement the report," he urged. "Time is running out."

ONLY WHEN the president discussed the Vietnam war at the separate meetings did he sound like the same Johnson.

To both groups, the president vigorously opposed suggestions that he should try a new bombing pause to see if the North Vietnamese are ready to negotiate.

"The Communists will spread the war in the countries surrounding South Vietnam if I halt the bombing now," he said. "Except for our air strikes, the North Vietnamese would be moving additional troops into South Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos, and even Thailand."

When the possibility of declaring war on North Vietnam was raised in both meetings, the president gave the same answer. He told both groups that he was against such a declaration since it might lead to World War III. He did not explain this statement to either group.

In each meeting he told of the valor and bravery of U.S. servicemen. During both sessions the president abruptly curtailed his Vietnam comments to ask aides to bring him a three-page letter he had received from a mother of a Midwest serviceman.

It told of how proud that mother was that her son was serving in Vietnam for the second time.

Dream Of Lost Territories Finally Dead For Germans

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

In Hannover, ancient city of kings, at an outdoor cafe in the bright sunlight of early fall, Erhard Herzig sipped coffee and brandy and told how it felt to be a German expellee from the land in which he was born.

He came from the province of Silesia east of the Oder-Neisse, and when he returned after being a prisoner of war in the United States, he found the Russians still there.

SOON, HE ALSO found himself expelled to the West, for Silesia, along with Pomerania and East Brandenburg was being turned over to Polish administration to make up for lands taken from them by Russians.

This conversation took place in October, 1961. The Berlin Wall had just gone up and the barbed wire dividing the two Germanys had just been reinforced and new mine field laid.

HERZIG WAS one of the some three million refugees from the East who had settled in lower Saxony, making up half the population.

He is a member of West Germany's Union of the Expelled whose members conclude their annual meeting with a moment of silence as they gaze through the barbed wire in the direction of their former homes.

But even then Herzig didn't really believe he would be going back to Silesia some day. Neither did most of the others among a total of seven million Germans forcibly expelled from the East.

The Potsdam agreement among the United States, France, Britain and the Soviet Union turned the territories beyond the Oder-Neisse to Polish administration pending a final German peace treaty.

But both the Poles and the Russians declared forcefully that so far as they were concerned, the border would be permanent.

A GERMAN peace treaty is yet to be signed but through the years the West Germans carefully nurtured the thought those lands might be returned.

He called for "recognition and respect of the Oder-Neisse line" as one of the realities of postwar Europe.

West Germany already had renounced any claims on Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland. At Nuernberg, Brandt took another step toward erasing the fear and suspicion which has been the Soviet Union's chief weapon to divide East and West.

Politicians Must Pay For Words, But Sometimes Price Is Wrong

Someone once wrapped up economic theory in a five-word sentence—"There ain't no free lunch."

It is equally applicable as political theory. Politicians don't get something for nothing, although that's sometimes what they promise the public. This is true for national candidates like McCarthy and Kennedy, who surely will pay for their impertinence if President Johnson beats off their challenge.

It is also true at the local level.

LAST WEEK the Sausalito Planning Commission passed a series of resolutions on the Vietnam war, proposing withdrawal from our position there.

One planning commissioner, George C. Hoffman, is running for city councilman April 9. He voted for the resolutions.

Since then, it is reported, he has been the subject of a dirty little whispering campaign implying he is no better than a communist. "After all, the Hoffmans went to Russia twice!" and that kind of thing.

Not knowing Hoffman personally, I don't know whether he would make a better councilman than some other candidate. But I know if I got one of those phone calls no one could keep me from voting for Hoffman by way of reply.

A good many of the people called may have the same reaction.

IN MILL VALLEY, two of the six council candidates have taken firm positions in favor of the recent council resolution on the war — planning commissioners Robert E. Burton and Edward Farrell.

If there has been a smear campaign over the issue in Mill Valley, I haven't heard of it yet. The issue has been aired by the candidates at meetings and on the radio, which is the right way to do it.

Candidate Robert H. Anderson is on record against the resolution and Jerome C. Hauke has written that he "stands behind the president" on the war.

Incumbent George E. Wickham voted for the resolution, but has not dwelt on the issue in the campaign. Mrs. Gladys T. Bleyle has also stuck to local isuses.

In both cities, what to do about the hippies seems to be a bigger issue than the war — except that the hippies have fewer defenders.

A QUITE UNHAPPY Sausalitan, Gene L. Galland of 807 Spring Street, called this week to complain of being attacked by dogs on the street two days in a row.

"They run in packs" in Sausalito, he said.

Galland said neither the police deparment nor the humane society had done anything about the problem. "Why can't we get a leash law like other cities?" he asked.

That's another question city councils don't like to stir up. Dog owners and dog haters are both highly vocal and irreconcilably opposed.

But the police department did contradict Galland's statement about police action.

"We have a big dog problem in Sausalito," Mrs. Joan Neil said. Big enough that the humane society has agreed to have a truck patrolling Sausalito streets to pick up stray dogs.

Normally the society doesn't have enough trucks or men to run patrols, but because of the extent of Sausalito's problem, it agreed to patrol there for a while.

Galland wasn't bitten — he fended the dogs off the second time by throwing rocks. But he has a good question. Why can't Marin's cities have leash laws — enforced?

I rather like having dogs running around myself, but I would forego my pleasure because of the anger, fright and occasional injury of kids and other people being jumped on by half-tame dogs.

ART BUCHWALD

No Chance To Win Vietnam War If Columnists Not Consulted

WASHINGTON — The decision to bring Gen. William C. Westmoreland back to the United States caught Washington completely by surprise. Even Joseph Wallstop, the syndicated Hawk and widely read pundit, had been kept in the dark on the President's plans.

This didn't go down too well with Wallstop when I saw him a few days later at the Army-Navy Club.

"No one consulted me," Wallstop complained. "I had to read about Westmoreland's recall in the newspapers."

"It's typical of the president," I said, trying to placate my friend. "The people involved are the last to know."

"Even Westmoreland knew before I did," Wallstop said.

"But not by much," I pointed out.

"WELL, I THINK it's sheer idiocy," Wallstop said angrily. "Just when the tide has turned and we have the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese on the run, and the Hue offensive proved once and for all that we were fighting paper tigers, Johnson has given in to political expediency. Doesn't the president know that I need Westmoreland in Vietnam?"

"But there will be other generals, Joe, and I'm sure they'll work with you."

"That's not the point," Wallstop said. "Westmoreland understands my strategy. He's a 'search and destroy' man as I am; he understands my attrition policies. This is no time for me to break in a new commanding general."

"But Joe, there has been some criticism of those policies since the Tet offensive. There are even some military experts who say that they are not working."

"WELL, THOSE experts will soon have jam on their faces. Of course, I can't be responsible for every minor setback in Vietnam, particularly when the president won't give me the troops I've asked for."

"That's right," I said. "You did call up the reserves last month, didn't you?"

"I certainly did, not just in one column, but in three. Yet the president overruled me. I can't get it through to the administration that if I'm going to be proven right in my column, I need at least 500,000 more men."

"Joe, do you think if we had a million American men in Vietnam we could win the war?"

"Maybe not at first, but we certainly could get the pacification program off the ground."

"And then win the hearts and minds of the Vietnamese people," I said.

"Exactly. But every time I make a suggestion and the administration rejects it, they dance in the streets of Hanoi."

"THAT'S NOT EASY to do with all the bombing going on," I agreed. "Tell me, Joe, why can't anyone else in Washington see the Vietnam problem as clearly as you do?"

"Because they don't have access to captured enemy documents," Joe said. He opened his briefcase and handed me a sheaf of papers. "Read them and then tell me if we aren't winning the war."

"They're all printed in Vietnamese, Joe."

"Well, you can guess what they say, can't you?" he said, putting them back in his briefcase.

"Tell me, Joe. Now that Westmoreland is coming back to the United States, do you think you'll be consulted about his replacement?"

"If I'm not, I can't guarantee the war will continue as well as it's going now."

Fusselman

There is an old American saying (probably from across the sea), "It makes a difference whose ox is being gored." And of course it also makes a difference who is doing the goring.

The bluster and excitement on the board of supervisors over Mayor Joseph Alioto's proposed tax of one cent (payroll) on commuters is a good example. Certainly none of us like the injustice of the attempt. None of the board members has a copyright on this resentment. Furthermore they should come with clean hands, but they don't.

In the 1965-66 fiscal year the budget was $24,677,297. The next year it was $25,463,692 and this current year it is $27,942,178. After deducting the subventions such as sales tax, gas tax and auto in lieu tax, plus federal subventions (all of which still come out of your pockets) the direct property tax was $8,914,973 then $10,358,720, and this year $11,422,675.

In the two years since 1965-66, they have increased the property tax, for those things they have complete control over, $2,507,702.

FOR THE PROPERTY owners who are on a salary, both the commuters and those working locally, this is just as much a payroll tax as that proposed by the San Francisco mayor. The only difference, it is not collected at the source.

Did they then get red in the face and get a tight collar with anger? Of course they didn't. They were doing the goring themselves.

WHAT IDLE TALK — to threaten a retaliatory tax on those who live in San Francisco! Even if this should be held constitutional, what a top-heavy bureaucracy would be required to sort out the folks. Those living in San Mateo and working here would only be coming through San Francisco. People north of here would be exempt as those from the East Bay.

The indignant ones out at Brasilia don't seem to remember that the chartered City and County of San Francisco is an entirely different setup than that of Marin, a general law county. The gentlemen out there can't pass an ordinance which would be effective in the 11 cities of Marin. Each of the 11 would have to pass an individual ordinance and would be responsible for the enforcement, not the county.

Disregarding this and ignoring the cities, in this righteous scramble for attention, will certainly not be conducive towards co-operation.

Fire Board's Statement Cites Merger Controversy

The move to merge the Bolinas Fire Protection District with the Bolinas Community Public Utility District was initiated by the Bolinas volunteer fire department, according to Manuel Peters, chairman of the fire protection board.

The volunteers voted unanimously for the merger, the fire district board voted unanimously to seek annexation to the utility district, and then the utility district board voted for the merger, Peters said.

Peters emphasized that the fire district started the merger because the utility district has taken the brunt of criticism of the plan. Opponents are circulating an anti-merger petition which will be presented to the Marin County Board of Supervisors when it holds a hearing on the merger Tuesday.

The proposal is that the utility district expand to the present limits of the fire district, take over fire protection, and that the fire district be dissolved.

The fire board statement cited three points of controversy about the merger, and explained each this way:

1. Costs—Taxes in the part of the fire district which is not now in the utility district will continue to support only fire protection. Only when water and sewer services are sought for property will the property be taxed for utility district costs.

2. The Bolinas Harbor District is not affected by the merger.

3. Stinson Beach County Water District, when it was formed, unknowingly included a corner of Bolinas Fire District. To take care of the overlap, the Local Agency Formation Commission ruled the water district would handle water and sewer service and the Bolinas Fire District would handle fire protection. That is the only agreement between the two districts.

The fire and utility district boards have unanimously agreed the merger is "a thoughtful, normal and logical forward step . . . with adverse effect upon no one." Peters statement reported.

Declarer Goofed, Put Too Much Faith In Six Kings And Queens

"That was a well-played hand," Dr. Watson remarked at the Baker Street Bridge Club some years ago. "It depends on the point of view," Sherlock Holmes demurred. "Declarer put too much faith in kings and queens."

TRUMPS CALLED

West led the king of clubs, and South ruffed the second round. South took dummy's high trumps, got to his hand with the king of diamonds, and found that he had to draw two more rounds of trumps.

South next took the queen of diamonds and learned that the suit broke 3-1. After he had led the eight of diamonds to dummy's ace his own nine of diamonds blocked the suit so that he could take only four diamond tricks.

When South finally led a spade, East took the ace of spades and two club tricks (since South was out of trumps). Down one.

The defense was clearly excellent, but Holmes had his reservations about declarer's play. What did the great detective have in mind?

DISREGARD SPADES

South should not rely on getting a trick with the king or queen of spades. He should plan to take five tricks in each red suit.

For this purpose, South must unblock the diamonds. When the second club is led South should not ruff; instead, he should discard a low diamond.

South ruffs the third club, takes dummy's trumps, and leads to the king of diamonds to draw the rest of the trumps. Declarer discards two spades from dummy on the trumps.

CASHES QUEEN

Declarer then cashes the queen of diamonds and leads his last diamond to dummy's ace. Dummy runs the last two diamonds, thanks to South's unblock, and the game and rubber are assured.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠—A 10 9
♥—10 7 5 4
♦ 10
♣—A 9 8 6 2.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two clubs.

The hand is not quite good enough for a jump to three hearts but is far too good for a raise to two hearts. Bid your own suit first and raise hearts later to show your in-between hand.

WHAT THE HORSEY SET IS WEARING

Equestrian classes in horse shows all have their prescribed proper wear, and knowing whats appropriate for each is a part of learning riding skills. Here Katharine Branson School students show classmates newest apparel in KBS' first equestrian fashion show. At left Anne Fraser of Boise, Ida., is prepared for hunt equitation in the horse show wearing a maroon coat and tan breeches and black boots. Her velveteen cap is maroon also, and she holds the black chin-strap cap required for the formal competition. At right, boot is pulled off Kyle Corwin, dressed in a sporty equitation jacket and cap. Others from left are Mary Smith of San Rafael in black schooling outfit with black derby and short boots, Xochi Hughes in gray suit outfit and derby for saddle seat classes; and Julie Stewart of San Rafael, dressed for show jumping in chin-strap velveteen black cap, black coat and boots. The center two models arrived in a cart for the show, which was staged by Mrs. Loreene French of San Geronimo. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Noted Composer-Pianist In Marin To Visit His Family

By MOLLY MARIN

Renewing friendships and visiting relatives in Marin is the noted composer-concert pianist Richard Cumming, who lived for many years in Belvedere. He is the son of Mrs. C. W. Cumming, who lives with another son, George Cumming, in Kent Woodlands. His sister is Mrs. James Knox of San Anselmo.

Because the Knoxs' three daughters are students at San Domenico School in Sleepy Hollow, Richard, who has been on concert tour as accompanist for Metropolitan Opera mezzo soprano Helen Vanni, persuaded her to give one of their programs for San Domenico students Wednesday night as part of the school's cultural series.

Following the concert a reception was given for the musicians by the Hugo Rinaldis at their home in San Rafael. Mrs. Rinaldi is Faith France, head of the music department at San Domenico.

Marin acquaintances will be interested in what has been happening to Richard, who studied with Ernest Bloch.

Winner of a Ford Foundation grant and first prize in a contest for young composers conducted by the National Federation of Music Clubs, Richard has been assistant conductor for three summers of the Santa Fe Opera Company.

He has been achieving especially wide recognition as a composer. His compositions have been performed by the famed Griller Quartet, the New York Philharmonic Orchestra and world renowned Pianist John Browning, who played three of his works on his tour of Russia.

Richard, who has been active with the Marin Shakespeare Festival, has composed the scores for 40 plays for such theaters as the Milwaukee, New York, Phoenix and Esso Repertory companies.

On her present tour Miss Vanni is singing three of the songs he composed for her. He has also been accompanist for Donald Gramm, Jennie Tourel, Anna Russell and Mildred Miller.

AMONG THE Cotillion debs announced in San Francisco this year are several who attend Marin schools, as well as Elizabeth Bullard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Bullard of Ross. Attending school in Marin are debs Tess Kok and Dee Dee Wilson at San Domenico, and Prudence Esberg, a student at Katharine Branson School. Her grandparents are the Milton H. Esbergs, who have a home in Ross. The Cotillion will be held in December in San Francisco.

ATTENDING A golden wedding dinner dance honoring Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barboni at Petaluma Veterans' Memorial were Marin family members. The Barbonis are parents of Mrs. Kathleen Panfiglio of Novato and the grandparents of Joe Panfiglio, also of Novato. Their other family members from Sonoma also were among the 200 relatives and friends at the party. A retired dairyman, Mr. Barboni served for many years on the Bank of America advisory board and the board of the Central Valley National Bank.

MR. AND MRS. Harris Johnson of Greenbrae were surprised with a champagne dinner party held at their home and planned by their son and daughter, Lee and Jo Ellen Johnson and several friends in honor of their silver wedding anniversary.

Terry Lynn Backes To Be Bride Of Daniel J. Davi

Terry Lynn Backes and Daniel John Davi plan a summer wedding. The announcement was made at a family dinner at the Kent Woodlands home of the future bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William L. McCormick.

Terry is the daughter of Mrs. Norma J. Backes of San Rafael and William F. Backes of Novato. She is a graduate of Redwood High School and attends Bay City Medical College in San Francisco.

Daniel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. John Davi of South San Francisco. He is a graduate of El Camino High School and is presently with the U. S. Navy stationed at San Diego.

The future bride is the sister of William C. Backes in Viet Nam, Andrew J. Martin Jr. of San Bruno and Robert J. Martin of San Francisco. Mrs. Ada B. Smith of Novato and Mrs. B. L. McCormick of Greenbrae are her grandmothers.

Mrs. Trindad Diaz of South San Francisco and Mrs. Norma M. Davi of San Francisco are Daniel's grandmothers.

The couple plan an Aug. 3 wedding in South San Francisco to be a double wedding with the future bridegroom's sister, Linda M. Davi.

Coffee House For Teens Will Open In Mill Valley

Experimental efforts to launch a coffee house for teen-agers in Mill Valley will have a trial run tonight.

This will be an open house from 7:30 p.m. to midnight in the basement room of the Mill Valley Community Church Annex, which is the former Christian Science Church at the corner of Lovell Avenue and Olive Street.

Under the guidance of the Rev. Jack Bartlett, associate pastor of the community church, the plan is to provide teen-agers with a place to visit, enjoy refreshments and music and participate in various kinds of activities and entertainment.

Associated with the Rev. Bartlett in planning the project are the Rev. Gordon L. Foster, pastor of the Mill Valley Community Church; the Rev. D. Murray Hammond, rector of the Mill Valley Episcopal Church of Our Saviour; and the Rev. George Carter, pastor of the Methodist Church of Mill Valley, together with many lay people including the Philip Meserves, Paul Hughness and Stanley Gallagher.

"There will be supervision by adults popular with teen-agers and sympathetic to their current needs and problems," says Bartlett, "but no policing. The idea is to have the young people police themselves. If it works and enough talent volunteers to make the effort successful, it should be a bright spot with promise for summer vacation."

Superstitions For Wedding Day

If your wedding day is windy, it is a sign of good luck.

If you catch a falling leaf, it means that you will have twelve months of continued happiness.

If you are married when the moon is waxing, your marriage will be a happy one.

If the hands of the clock are moving upward when the wedding ceremony is being read, your propserity is ensured.

State P-TA Board Calls For Study On Marijuana Facts

"There has not been adequate medical and scientific research to determine how harmful or harmless marijuana actually is, or what effects its use may have. It is time for a thorough study to be made. The dearth of facts has led adults to hysterical preaching, using exaggerations and scare tactics rather than teaching with certainty and assurance. Illegality has emerged as the only valid argument to prevent a child's starting to use marijuana," states the report of the special committee of the state board of managers of the California Parent-Teacher Association, released today.

The committee was authorized to inquire into the present law and its application regarding possession, use, sale and transport of marijuana; statewide incidence and trends of arrests; the medical and social significance of its use; and what instruction is given in the public schools regarding it—to develop factual information and an informed opinion for use in determining CCPT's stand on legislation.

As a result of the study, the state board of managers, at the meeting in Los Angeles, voted to support bills before the legislature to initiate a research program into the medical and social effects of marijuana use and to allow judges' discretion to assign either a felony or a misdemeanor status for first-offense marijuana convictions.

"The seriousness of a felony conviction in many cases may be unwarranted," said Mrs. Lennart R. Swenson of South Pasadena, chairman of the committee. "The court should have the flexibility required to handle each case on its merits."

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

He's Married, Unemployed And In Debt, But Daughter Loves Him

DEAR HELEN:

Our daughter became engaged to a man who rents the upstairs apartment. Then things began to happen. His wife and child came to see him about separate maintenance payments which were long overdue. Not finding him at home, the woman told me her troubles. Even if I discounted three-fourths of them, I'd still be shook.

After first denying that he had a wife, the man finally admitted he was getting a divorce, but final papers are delayed until he catches up with his support payments.

I'm discovering more about him all the time. His creditors are closing in. The longest he has had a job is three months. He always says he leaves to take better employment. Mostly, he's been fired!

But with all this proof, our daughter, a usually sensible girl, still won't give back the engagement ring. She insists people misjudge him. She's under age, and we won't sign the papers. Also, he isn't free to marry, so time and her strong moral principles are on our side. How do we convince her of his credibility gap? — MOTHER OF ANOTHER BLIND DAUGHTER

DEAR MOTHER:

Your daughter has a credibility gap between the ears, a common affliction of girls in love. With time working for you, well, relax and let it work. A normal sensible girl doesn't stay blind forever. You'll see.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

We have a neighbor who can come straight from the store and then borrow from me before she can cook dinner. Several times she has paid back, then borrowed it back before she left. Often she never returns the stuff, or if she does, it's always a much inferior brand and lots cheaper, something we dislike and would never use.

I've tried telling her to hop in my car. I'll take her back to the store so she can get what she forgot, but she doesn't catch on, just says, "Oh, I haven't time for that!" Money isn't the problem, she's loaded.

What burns me is I hardly ever borrow, and the few times I try she's out of what I need. Frankly, we're rather tired of being her next door supermarket without charge. In fact, I'm tired of her. — BORED WITH A DISORGANIZED NEIGHBOR

DEAR BORED:

Look Mrs. Scatterbrain straight in the eye and say, "It's time you learned how to shop!" Then show her how you keep day-to-day grocery lists, and always plan meals before you leave for the market.

This will accomplish one of two things. She'll either become a better neighbor or an ex-friend you won't really miss. Either way, you've won the battle of the borrower.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Throughout our married life my husband has spent his free time on sports, either watching them on TV, or out with his buddies. He has his own interests. I'm not part of them.

This is not a complaint. I'm used to it. Here's my gripe. The few times he does notice he has a wife, he's mad if I don't act happy and gay. I'm happy enough, but not gay. I've lost the habit of talking. Somewhere it went out of me after those years of being alone or getting shushed so he could hear TV.

I like my husband well enough. I'm not mad. I'll cook and clean and be his wife. How can I get it across that I'm silent because I'm used to silence. All I want is to be left alone. — ACCUSTOMED

DEAR ACCUSTOMED:

That isn't true, and you know it! You want sharing, loving companionship, but you're so hung up with bitterness and hurt you won't try any more. You won't even fight, and this is the most hopeless kind of marriage-drift. Your drowning in self-pity and you won't try to swim.

For Heaven's sake, blow up and tell your husband how you feel. It's barely possible he doesn't include you in his interests because he figures you want things that way.—H.

Hippie Influence

The hippie influence is very much felt in French haute couture collections. Samples: lots of long chain necklaces with pendants in all shapes; long necklaces of graduated round balls; a belt of twisted strands of pearls in two tones and ending in tassels.

CIGARILLOS

From Paris fashion designer Jeanne Lanvin's spring-summer collection is the outfit she calls Cigarillos. The green and Havana brown woolen suit is worn over a white shantung shirt and green mousse tights. Light brown leather shoes, an ochre straw hat and a silver and turtle shell neckline from the Sahara complete the outfit.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY
Independent-Journal Historian Florence Donnelly has recorded the history of another of Marin County's more colorful communities for tomorrow's Marin Magazine. This time her subject is Marshall, the quiet little village on Tomales Bay. Marshall was not always so quiet and remote. The I-J historian tells you tomorrow about the days when Marshall was a fishing, railroading and communications center.
A Marinite is responsible for the teaching of a most unusual college course. But, then, Bennet Skewes-Cox is an unusual professor. Tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement will spotlight Skewes-Cox and the unique world affairs course he is teaching at San Francisco State Experimental College. It embodies a whole new concept and approach of seeing the international situation from the standpoint of the humanist.

ON THE AGENDA

Mrs. John Miller To Visit Ladies' Auxiliary In San Rafael

Mrs. John Miller of El Monte, Calif. will make her official visit to Ladies' Auxiliary to Canton San Rafael of California Patriarchs Militant Friday at 8 p.m. at the Odd Fellows Temple in San Rafael.

Mrs. James Williams will preside over the meeting, and Mrs. Miller will preside over the school of instruction. Mrs. Albert Hughes, Mrs. Margeriete Carpenter and Mrs. Anna Hicks are refreshment chairmen.

PATTERN DRAFTING is being offered Monday evenings at 7:30 p.m. at Redwood High School. The course, taught by Mrs. Ruth Moscrop of Novato, is a primer in pattern making for those who like to sew and those who have never sewed before. Final registration will be at Monday night's class.

MRS. JOHN MILLER

THE SAUSALITO Welcome Wagon Club extends to all an invitation to meet and greet your neighbors on Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Cloud View Park on Cloud View Ave. where there is playground equipment for the children and parking is available.

This is the first in a series of hospitality hours which the Sausalito Welcome Wagon Club plans to sponsor during the coming year as their project to promote friendliness and good will in the community.

The subject of study for the current year is "The Rich and the Poor Nations." This month the country studied is Chile. Other countries which have been studied by the group are India, United Arab Republic and Liberia.

Dr. John Mamer, who is now on the staff at University of California, will bring interest to the study at this meeting. He served during 1967 in Chile as an advisor to the Chilean government on agricultural marketing.

MARIN'S ALPHA Omicron Pi Alumnae Club will give a bridge luncheon Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Arthur Feidler in Ross. The event will benefit the sorority's project, the Ross Hospital Endowed Bed fund.

Mrs. Gordon Dunn is chairman and Mrs. Peter Skaer, co-chairman. Mesdames Thomas Skornia, Lorraine Curley, J. J. Foley, Philip Strick, Gordon Phillips, Virginia De Pue, Milton L. Stannard Jr., F. E. Lougee and George Herrero will assist them.

THE SISTERHOOD of Congregation Rodef Sholom of Marin will usher in the Passover season with its annual pre-Passover fashion show luncheon to be held at Peacock Gap Country Club Thursday at noon.

A variety of fashions has been selected, and they will be modeled by Rodef Sholom Sisterhood members. The outfits range from cocktail dresses to sport sets and from bathing suits to negligees.

There will be a special gentlemen's group table. Mrs. Jerome Lerner is reservation chairman, and Mrs. Myron Kaplan is general chairman. The fashion commentary will be by Miss Carol King.

RICHARD BAKER, ordained priest of Zen Buddhism and president of the Zen Center in San Francisco, will be the speaker at Wednesday's luncheon meeting of the Community Church Club in Mill Valley.

Planning the noon luncheon are Mesdames Charles Gorrill, John Norall, Dale Pinkerton, Richard Parino and Robert Andresen.

Mr. Baker did his undergraduate work at Harvard University and studied for his master's degree at the University of California at Berkeley in Japanese history.

He is the director of Tassajara, a newly acquired property near Monterey and Big Sur which is a Zen monastery or meditation center for training and contemplation. With its mountain location and leadership by Suzuki Roshi, it may become the center for Zen study and meditation in the United States.

Mr. Baker has been a program director in letters and sciences at the University of California Extension School and has participated in numerous studies, including problems of identity, rock and roll, LSD, the generation gap.

THE REED District Parent-Teachers Club is a co-sponsor of the visit of the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Association's mobile unit to Tiburon April 5. The unit will be located adjacent to the Safeway parking lot in Tiburon from noon to 7 p.m., and volunteers will assist with registration for all those over 15 years of age who wish to have chest X-rays taken.

The Larkspur Parent-Teacher Association is a co-sponsor for the unit's availability at the Corte Madera Shopping Center from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. April 6.

FROM SECRETARY to owner of a Spanish night spot to an interest in the teachings of the Maharishi Mahesh Yogi have kept waitress Pat LaSalle busy. Today she enjoys hiking, boating and contemplation near her Stinson Beach home.

A Marinite With Multi-Interests

"I like to enjoy life, observe everything and live the way I want."

With that as a sort of philosophy, Pat LaSalle, Stinson Beach resident and a waitress at the Lion's Share in Sausalito, has led a life of both tranquility and excitement. And one that "runs the gamut" from a Southern California secretary to a student of the Maharishi Mahesh, the Indian guru with whom the Beatles and Mia Sinatra study.

"I was an office manager and secretary in Los Angeles when the travel bug bit," Pat explains," and, with a friend, I headed for Spain."

A quick lesson in Spanish economics for Pat revealed that it is all but impossible to work in Spain unless you own your own business. Without any background, Pat and her friend purchased a corner store in Torremolinos and spent hours redecorating it, painting and finally opening what was to become a new Spanish "land mark" — Mickey's Bar.

It proved an instant success, appealing to a wide range of customers. One was top jazzman Paul Horn, an early student of the Maharishi and he taught Pat much of the knowledge derived from India.

Returning to the United States, Pat settled in Marin County.

"Hiking and boating," Pat says, "take up much of my time." In addition, she likes to paint, decorate and cook.

Some machines even have a high-school education
(Shouldn't you do at least that well?)

Even a machine needs a good education to get a good job today. So the message should be clear to you.

Jobs are becoming much more complicated. Much more demanding. And that's why more and more employers are insisting on a good education as the number-one job requirement.

Now more than ever, a good education isn't some kind of luxury. It's an absolute necessity!

The plain fact is . . . to get a good job today, you need a good education. So don't let anything stop you from getting one.

If you're in school now . . . stay there! Learn all you can for as long as you can. If you're out of school, you can still get plenty of valuable training outside the classroom. For full details, talk to the Youth Counselor at your State Employment Service. Or visit a Youth Opportunity Center.

Garage In Alto Looted Of Saw

Marin sheriff's deputies yesterday reported three burglaries in the unincorporated areas of Marin County.

Someone entered through an unlocked door of the garage of David M. Dooley at 27 Eagle Rock Road, Alto, and stole an electric sander and skill saw worth $100 between March 16 and Saturday, they said.

Burglars broke a window of the Thomas Hepper home at 4365 Paradise Drive in the unincorporated area Monday and stole $450 cash, a shotgun and numerous items of clothing, they said.

Escaper Gets New Term For Holdup

Arnold Stauss, 22-year-old Sacramento burglar who escaped from San Quentin Prison on Dec. 15, has been returned to the prison with a new sentence for a robbery committed while he was at librety.

He was arrested and again tried in Sacramento. He began serving a five-year to life sentence at San Quentin in 1966. He now has an additional five-to-life term.

TV REVIEW

The Negro Community Is Involved

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Every day now, television finds itself having to develop its new relationship with the Negro community. All areas of the broadcast industry—entertainment, news and the behind-the-scenes people—are involved.

"I Spy" brought the first Negro costar in a series, Bill Cosby. "Julia," which begins on NBC-TV this fall, will offer the first female Negro series star, Diahann Carroll, in a situation comedy. There will also be a new western in the fall "The Outcasts," with a Negro star.

A trade paper, meanwhile, reports that ABC-TV's "Peyton Place" may have its first Negro family enter the cast come autumn. The report adds that the show's executive producer got an okay from the network to develop the concept and "is now working out plots with his staff."

Harry Belafonte recently was guest host of the "Tonight" show for a week, and Sammy Davis Jr. has been the host this week. In addition, an interesting sidelight has been brought up in connection with ABC-TV's new game show, "Dream House," in which young couples compete for a top prize which is a $40,000 home. The sidelight arises from the following situation:

"Dream House" promises to build its homes for winning contestants anywhere they want. What, it has been asked, if a winning Negro asks for a home in an area that gives him trouble in trying to move in? Would "Dream House," in effect, then be a "blockbuster"? At any rate, the show promises to back its winners to hilt — anywhere they want to build.

There was another trade paper item this week from New York about the McCann-Erickson Agency's new musical director, also a Negro. According to the report, the agency specifically wants him to "put a pop sound into its commercial music and his prime assignment will be Coke (Coca-Cola)."

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 7:30 p.m. — The Harlem Globetrotters will display their basketball skills and court comedy in a full-hour sports and entertainment special.

KPIX (5), 9 p.m. — "CBS Friday Night Movies" offers "The Hellions," a drama about a lone defender of law and order in a South African frontier town gripped by terror. Richard Todd and Ann Aubrey star.

KQED (9), 9 p.m. — "NET Playhouse" presents Jules Romain's 20th Century farce "Dr. Knock." The play is from the repertoire of the Comedie Francaise.

KRON (4), KCRA (3), 9:30 p.m. — "Give Us Barabbas!" is a Biblical play based on the trial of Jesus before the Roman procurator Pontius Pilate. James Daly stars in the title role. Also featured are Kim Hunter and Dennis King.

Wire Safety At School Session Audience Sparse

A Belvedere citizen's one-man campaign to get emergency undergrounding of wires near Belvedere School drew only one citizen to a public meeting at Reed School Wednesday night.

Three representatives from Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and one from the Pacific Telephone Co. were also in the audience.

Clarence O. Bullard, who called the meeting, said yesterday that "nothing conclusive" came out of it and that no further meetings on the subject are planned.

The only continuing action will apparently be a petition being circulated by the Reed School District Parent-Teacher Association clubs to the PG&E to underground wires in the school's area as soon as possible.

GOP Lawmakers Offer Tax Credit To Make Jobs

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A group of 73 Republican senators and congressmen filed legislation yesterday to create 300,000 new jobs for the hard core unemployed in 1968 at a cost of $956 million.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N. Y., who helped write the bill, said the Republicans were introducing the measure because President Johnson had "given the cold shoulder" to the recommendations of his National Commission on Civil Disorders.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., another sponsor, accused the Johnson Administration of "utterly failing to provide jobs for the hard core unemployed."

Percy said the GOP bill would provide tax credits for employers who hire hard-core jobless.

Symphony To Close Session On Thursday

The Marin Symphony, conducted by Sandor Salgo, will present the last concert of its 16th season at 8 p.m. Thursday in the College of Marin gymnasium in Kentfield.

The program will include Brahms' "Tragic Overture," Alban Berg's Concerto for Violin, with guest soloist David Abel, and Debussy's "La Mer."

The Brahms and the Debussy selections are a program change from a Vivaldi concerto and Searle symphony originally announced,. Though often played by Toscanini, the Brahms work is seldom heard today, according to Salgo.

Tickets may be purchased before the performance.

Singer To Assist At Campaign Fete

Canadian folk singer Noreen St. Pierre will entertain during open house at Supervisor Ernest H. Kettenhofen's campaign headquarters in San Anselmo on opening day tomorrow.

The headquarters will be in the Cheda Building on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Tunstead Avenue. Entertainment will be from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Ross School Poetry Winners Announced

Five first place awards were won in the poetry contest held as a part of the Art and Poetry Festival at Ross School.

Eighth grade student Barbara Morrisey won first place in the humorous poetry category. The other winners were Mark Simonitch, fourth grade; Ann Robyns, fifth grade; Lynn Gutstadt, sixth grade; Chris Filmer, eighth grade. No first place winner was chosen in the seventh grade.

Grim Reminder?

LEABROOKS, England (UPI) —Oliver Holmes, 48, was fined 15 pounds ($36) for careless driving and speeding—in a hearse.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these reviews and ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council findings are from California national P-TA Magazine and the "Film Report" of the Film Estimate Board of National Organizations. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael or Mill Valley libraries.

FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

"Guess Who's Coming To Dinner" — Stanley Kramer's version of the tension created in two families when a white girl and a colored boy announce their engagement. Sidney Poitier, Katharine Hepburn, and Spencer Tracy do well within limits of stereotyped liberal roles.

"Thoroughly Modern Millie" —Julie Andrews, sparkling cast in infectious musical spoof. Styles, fads, foibles and naivete of 1920 take a ribbing.

ADULTS AND TEENS
(14 years and up generally)

"Five Million Years to Earth"—Excavators from London underground uncover missile . . . huge insect-like creatures enclosed. There is much death and destruction before science finds a means of control. Good science fiction.

"Games" — Weird mystery story with all the tenseness of horror film . . . well acted but too tense and brutal for very young people.

"House of Usher" — Short story by Poe, murder mystery.

BORDERLINE
(Caution — most sources say adults only)

"Bonnie and Clyde" — Young man teams up with pretty waitress, one grand spree. They wantonly kill and rob, treating armed robbery and coldblooded murder as comedy will offend many people. Explicit sex and sadistic violence are revolting.

"Naked Runner" — An American businessman is induced by British Intelligence to shoot and kill, an English defector. Chases, kidnaping and harrowing escapes make a tense spy story. Frank Sinatra brings authority to the leading role.

ADULTS ONLY

"Anniversary" — Tasteless exercise in the sordid and macabre. Features Bette Davis as mother who stifles the lives of her grown-up children.

"Good, the Bad and the Ugly" — Made in Italy, adventure film is filled with ugly violence and offensive situations. Explicit brutality.

"The Graduate"—Young man returning from college becomes involved in a torrid affair. Plot becomes a tangled mess. Absurd melodramatic ending.

"Hurry Dundown"—This overlong melodrama deals with a group of decadent greedy white people. The action is filled with explicit sex. Some of the language used is vile and despicable. Sordid melodrama.

"Smashing Time" — Two "Mod" girls from rural England go into swinging section of London for a holiday. Plot is used to tie together a series of situations which many will think in very bad taste. Dialogue is difficult to understand.

"The Stranger" — Murder without apparent motive. Man is condemned, not for murder but because he is an atheist and did not love his mother. Excellent production.

"Viking Queen" — Early Britain under Roman domination is setting for pseudo-historical melodrama. Queen argued to rule jointly with Roman, corrupt official opposed to union sets off a gory uprising. Bloodthirsty indulgence in flogging, torture and violence.

"Explicit, vivacious, and engrossing . . . acting first rate."

Novato Slates April Hearing On Leash Law

A public hearing on a new dog leash law will be held on April 23 in the Novato Community House.

The proposed ordinance would forbid dogs from roaming at large and set fines on dog owners of $10 for the first offense; $20 for the second offense and $30 for the third offense with the dog taken away from the owner, impounded by the Marin County Humane Society, sold and the owner not allowed to keep a dog for one year.

It also calls for a $10 fine for the owner of any dog on a leash which defecates on private property.

The enforcement would be placed in the hands of the police department, according to the ordinance.

The proposal was presented to the Novato City Council at its meeting Tuesday night by Isadore Bentivoglio of 750 Sunset Parkway, speaking for the Committee of Citizens for Effective Dog Control.

Two petitions bearing 66 signatures accompanied the proposed ordinance, asking that it be adopted by the city council.

Marin Group Will Greet McCarthy

The Marin steering committee of the Eugene McCarthy for President Committee last night announced plans for a caravan on Thursday to greet Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy when he arrives at San Francisco International Airport.

The caravan will depart at 10:30 from the Marin headquarters at 1040 Redwood Highway, Alto. The Senator arrives at 12:35 p.m. for a fund-raising dinner to be held that evening at the Hilton Hotel in San Francisco.

Mrs. Rebecca Watkin of Kent Woodlands is handling reservations for the dinner, which begins at 8 p.m. A no-host cocktail hour will begin at 7 p.m.

James D. Nelson, a student at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, was appointed chairman of a committee to seek campaign workers among college and high school students.

The Marin headquarters, it was announced, will open at 10 a.m. tomorrow, one day later than previously announced.

Marinites Join Anti-Reagan Unit

The newly formed Republican Committee for a Free Delegation, which is challenging Gov. Ronald Reagan's favorite-son presidential slate in the June GOP primary election, includes two Marin residents, Francois Leydet of Belvedere and Louis G. Harding of Mill Valley.

The committee was assembled last week by party moderates who had supported New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller as a possible presidential candidate. Its leadership, headed by James Wilcox, a Los Angeles atterney, said California Republicans should have a choice on the June 4 primary ballot.

To qualify for the ballot, the committee must collect 18,715 signatures from registered GOP voters before April 5.

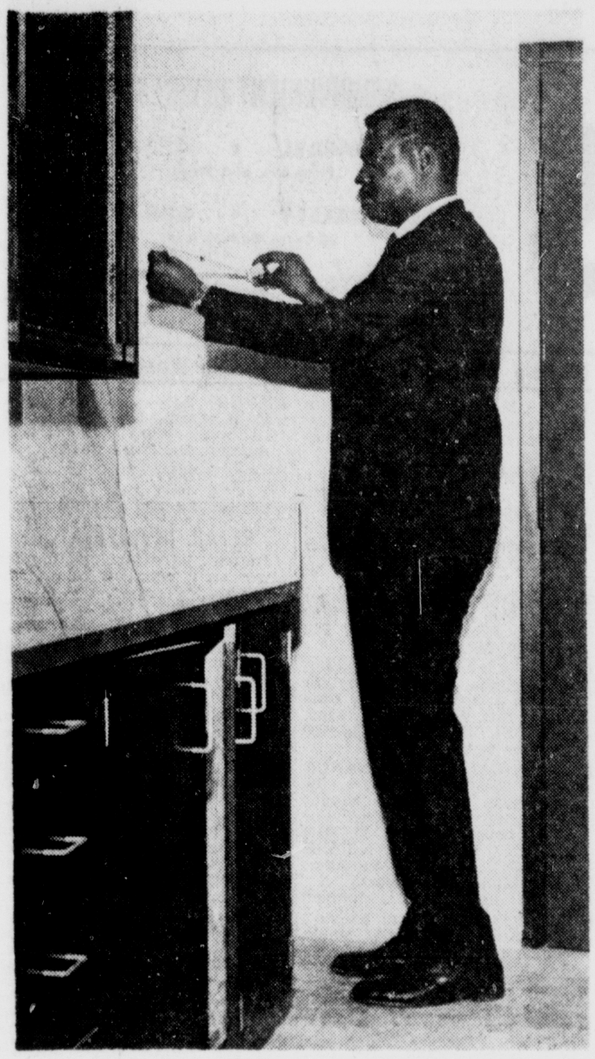
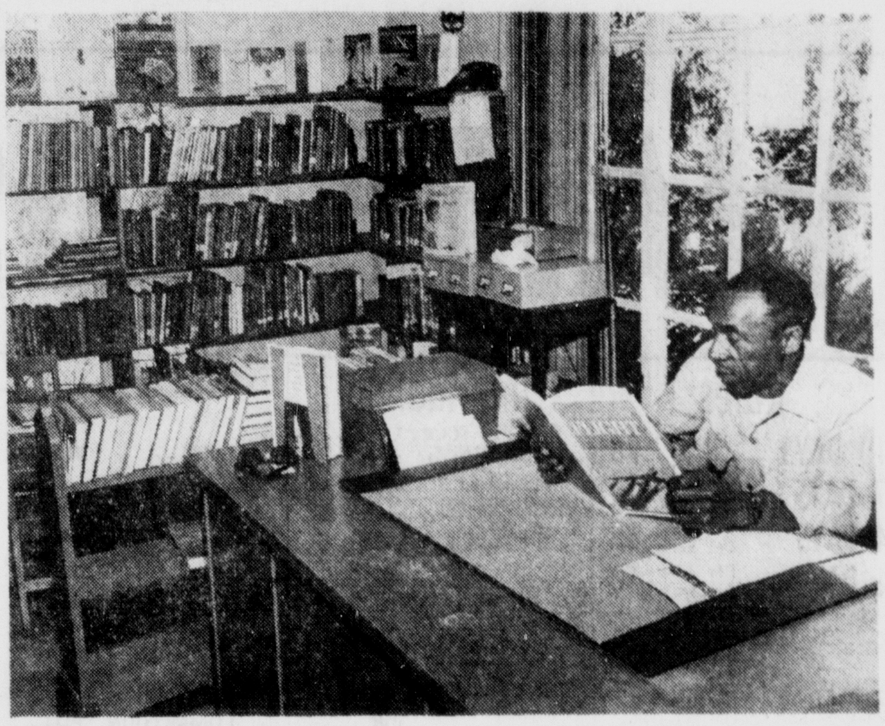
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY
THIRD SECTION SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, MARCH 29, 1968 23



PLANNING—Charles W. Story, director of the Marin City Community Services District, measures a place in the kitchen of the new community center where it is hoped a refrigerator will go.



OLD—Daniel Winters, an employee of the county library in Marin City, scans a book. The library is being moved from the Rosa Building into the new Manzanita Community Center.

Community Center Readied For Debut In Marin City

By ALAN JONES

Marin City will get something it has long lacked — a focal point for social activities — when the Community Neighborhood Center opens next month.

The center, scheduled for a grand opening April 20, will include a combined social hall and gymnasium with stage and dressing rooms; separate lounges for adults and young people; three large classrooms to double as meeting rooms; a small service kitchen, and a branch library.

In a separate building willbe the Office of Economic Opportunity, the county probation department, and perhaps Project Breakthrough, a supplementary education program for which federal funds are being sought.

There are still problems at the $330,000 center, however. Federal $260,000) and county ($120,000) funds covered construction, but were not intended to furnish the building or operate it.

The Marin County Housing Authority recently agreed to subsidize the center's first year with a $42,000 grant, which takes care of most of the problem.

About $10,000 of the authority's grant will be available to furnish the building, leaving the center approximately $5,000 short for equipment and furnishings, according to Charles W. Story, director of the Marin City Community Services District.

The CSD will run the center, but as things stand now it cannot produce the money needed to finish furnishing the building. The district has a small tax base and limited funds.

Story is reluctant to undercut support given by the housing authority by mounting a public campaign for funds, but he has quietly asked some likely prospects if they would help.

The needed equipment includes just about everything a community center is supposed to have — office furniture and typewriters for a proposed secretarial class to teach office skills, sewing machines and utility tables for a proposed sewing class. Musical instruments for music lessons, a kiln for ceramics classes and arts and crafts materials.

To equip the service kitchen, the center needs a work table, a complete set of kitchen utensils, three small refrigerators and a big refrigerator-freezer.

The stage lacks curtains, lights and podiums.

The lounges need 10 couches, two television sets, two phonographs, a piano, four pool tables and four ping pong tables.

In the gym, all sorts of athletic equipment, balls, nets and so on are needed.

The library, which will replace the county library in the Rosa Building, will need books.

The district has asked the county library service to keep the new library open 28 hours a week, from 4 to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday.

The old library is open only nine hours a week, 2 to 5 p.m. Monday and Friday and 6 to 9 p.m. Wednesday.

The types of books available will make a great difference in library use, Story said. "They won't read 'Little Red Riding Hood,' but will go for books of Negro history.

Not Even Proposed Corte Madera Merger Stirs Larkspur Candidates

Not even revival of sore points such as proposed merger of Larkspur and Corte Madera or fair housing gave Larkspur's five council candidates any bones to pick with each other last night.

An audience of 30 persons heard almost unanimous agreement on every topic, in a candidates' night sponsored by the Larkspur Chamber of Commerce, League of Women Voters and Henry C. Hall and Larkspur-Corte Madera Schools parent-teacher associations.

MERGER BACKED

Former Larkspur City Mgr. Ron C. Piper, who moderated the session in Henry C. Hall School, took the opportunity to speak strongly for eventual merger of the entire lower Ross Valley as one city of 60,000 persons, and against partisan politics at the city level as a corrupting force.

Incumbents Henry Brocco and Earl J. O'Grady, plus candidates Robert D. Dolman, William Fleckles and Benton A. Sifford Jr. are competing for three council seats on the April 9 ballot.

Fielding a question from the floor about twin cities merger, answers ranged from Dolman's "inevitable" to O'Grady's "I don't think Corte Madera is willing," but none opposed the idea.

REVIEW OF NEEDS

Asked by the women voters to review city needs in terms of traffic, downtown rejuvenation, planning and density, recreation and library development, the candidates unanimously said Magnolia Avenue improvements were the key, downtown changes must come from grass roots action by merchants and property owners, the existing master plan is suitable if kept modern, and a new library is desirable, preferably serving Corte Madera and Kentfield as well, and located in Piper Park.

None said they would oppose library location outside of Larkspur as a result of merger, if it meant more benefits to the public.

An audience question about San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto's proposed commuter tax drew solid opposition; another request for the candidates' stand on the Rumford Act brought five replies favoring fair housing, although Fleckles held that it was outside the scope of council influence.

Candidates' Night At Ross Brings Out 400

Citizens of Ross — which is having its first contested election in eight years — turned out in large numbers last night for a new experience: a candidates' night.

The approximately 400 persons in the school auditorium had such a good time that contested elections may become a way of life in the little community.

TEMPERS FLARE

Althought moderator Richard Bettini, a San Rafael attorney, tried to keep the question period to the rules prescribed by the League of Women Voters, tempers rose as personalities were injected into the discussions.

"Is there a rising crime rate in Ross that is not being reported?" a woman questioner wanted to know, adding that she would keep the doors of her home locked if such was the case.

Councilman Thomas W. Jones, one of the three seeking reelection to their seats, replied that there is an increase in crime in Ross, "but Ross doesn't want to publicize crime."

"Oohs" and "ah's" and cries of "no" greeted his statement that heroin and marijuana are being pushed in Ross. He did not elaborate.

SECRET REPORTS?

Councilman Natalie G. Lewis, said that police reports are locked up "to protect citizens." The third incumbent, Dr. W. James Dawson, stated that while the reports are legally available, that "it's no one's business when a man up on Fernhill Avenue beats his wife."

Three of the four council challengers attended last night. The fourth, Robert M. Brown, chose to send a statement, which was read by Bettini.

"I have solutions for the problems of Ross but I am not going to disclose them unless elected because one of the councilmen might take them for his own ideas," Brown, a San Francisco tailor, said.

Jack Carney, a radio disc jockey, who is also seeking a council seat, charged that the council has not communicated with Ross citizens, and "communication is my business."

Jefferson J. Graves Jr., a bank employee, thought he could bring his business experience to Ross politics, and retired garage owner Henry A. Haberman said he could save citizens money through economy in town government.

RENTAL ISSUE

In answer to a question from the audience as to why the challengers had not volunteered earlier for Ross activities, Graves said that he had had a sick wife for many years. Carney said he "had never heard of any volunteer activities except the fire department and getting up on ladders makes me throw up."

One of the issues of the Ross election, the enforcement of an ordinance prohibiting rental units, was discussed by all the candidates.

"I couldn't sleep at night if I used the ordinance to dispossess any of our neighbors in Ross," Carney said. Dr. Dawson said that persons can apply for variances to the ordinance if they wish, but that only one application had been received. Mrs. Lewis supported the ordinance, also citing the variance possibility.

Graves felt that the matter should be put to a vote of the people, while Haberman thought that present rental units should be allowed.

DELIGHTFULLY CHEERFUL

Located on the sheltered east side of the Island, just a block from elementary school and close to shopping. Built in the middle 1950's but completely remodeled four years ago: New tile, new appliances, and bathrooms, this home offers a delightfully cheerful living room with high ceilings and a wall of glass looking over an exposed aggregate deck of large proportions which in turn overlooks a fascinating view of the Lagoon and Bay. A dining area lies off of the living room which has a sense of some separateness. The kitchen has a brand new feeling with a huge window over the sink looking onto a garden area. It includes a breakfast nook. The master bedroom is over 20 feet long with dressing area and bath. Downstairs are two huge bedrooms, a bath and storage room. There are two large level areas to the side of the house offering pool possibilities. Beautiful trees and landscaping. By appointment only. $62,500

HALL OF JUSTICE
SITE DEVELOPMENT
MARIN COUNTY CIVIC CENTER

MARIN COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS
SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed Proposals will be received by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, until 10:00 a.m., April 15, 1968, for:

Site development of the Marin County Civic Center Hall of Justice, consisting of grading, asphalt concrete paving on cement treated base and select subgrade; construction of curbs, gutters, sidewalks, islands, retaining wall, drainage structures, sanitary sewer, lighting facilities, telephone conduit, electrical facilities, irrigation systems, and other related construction.

The work shall be done in accordance with official plans and specifications prepared in reference thereto which may be seen at the office of the Department of Public Works, County of Marin. Request for forms or information shall be addressed to the Department of Public Works, County of Marin, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

Plans, Specifications (but not including Standard Specifications or other documents included by reference), and Proposal forms may be obtained by prospective bidders upon payment of a deposit of Ten Dollars ($10.00) (cash or check made payable to the Department of Public Works, County of Marin) to guarantee safe return of the plans and specifications within ten (10) days after bid opening. Failure to so return the plans and specifications will cause forfeiture of the deposit to the County.

All bids must be submitted on the Proposal form obtained from the Director of Public Works and shall be accompanied by a Proposal Guaranty of at least ten percent (10%) of the bid. Guaranties shall be in the form of a certified or Cashier's Check or a Bidder's Bond. Failure of the successful bidder to execute and return the contract, or to file acceptable bond, as required, within the time allotted shall be cause for the annulment of the award and forfeiture of the Proposal Guaranty. All guaranties not so retained by the County shall be returned to the Bidders within fifteen (15) days after the award of the contract.

Said proposals will be opened and read at 10:00 a.m. in Room No. 343, Marin County Civic Center, on the day specified above for receiving bids. Only the total amount bid will be read and not specific items going to make up said total unless written request for reading of each sub-total and individual items of the bid is requested in writing at the time of the submission of proposals. Bidders will be at liberty to inspect and review bids in the Office of the Director of Public Works to which they will be removed for the purpose of checking after the opening and reading of the totals.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors will award the bid at 1:30 p.m., April 16, 1968, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard.

Bids are required for the entire work described herein, and neither partial bids nor contingent bids will be considered.

TIME LIMIT

The contractor shall commence work on or before the fifteenth (15th) day following the date of written notification by the Director of Public Works that the contract has been awarded by the Board of Supervisors. During this fifteen (15) day interval, the necessary contract documents shall be executed by the contractor and returned to the Department of Public Works. All work shall be completed on the project within one-hundred twenty (120) working days counting from and including the said fifteenth (15th) day.

For positions not listed above the minimum rate paid for skilled, intermediate or unskilled labor shall be not less than minimum wage per hour and shall conform to the particular craft or classification of workmen employed on the project.

Attention is directed to the correlation of the specifications with the Standard Specifications of the State of California, Department of Public Works, Division of Highways, dated July, 1964, as to materials, methods and workmanship.

The contractor whose bid is accepted shall furnish the following bonds to the County (at no expense to the County), executed by a responsible surety acceptable to the County in the prescribed form:

a) Faithful Performance Bond
b) Labor and Materials Bond

The Faithful Performance Bond shall be in an amount equal to one-hundred per cent (100%) of the total amount bid by the contractor in his proposal.

The Labor and Materials Bond shall be in an amount equal to fifty per cent (50%) of the total amount bid by the contractor in his proposal.

EMPLOYEES AND NON-DISCRIMINATION

Contractor shall not discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, religion, color or national origin. This shall include employment, demotion or transfer, recruitment or recruitment advertisement, layoff or termination, rates of pay or other compensation, and selection for training and apprenticeship. Contractor shall post, in conspicuous places during period of contract and available to applicants for employment, notices setting forth the provisions of this clause. Contractor shall insert the foregoing provision in all subcontracts hereunder, except subcontracts for standard commercial supplies or raw materials. The hiring of all labor for work shall be in accordance with applicable directives of the Fair Employment Practices Commission of the State of California. The contractor shall forfeit, as a penalty, in addition to any other penalty provided by law, to County, the sum of $25.00 for each calendar day, or portion thereof, during which the contractor knowingly allows any conditions of discrimination to exist in connection with the work, provided, however, that such penalty shall not be imposed without a full investigation and determination by the Fair Employment Practices Commission.

Contractor shall cooperate fully with Marin County and affected Unions to promote and insure the maximum employment of Negroes and Spanish-speaking minorities, with particular emphasis on residents of Marin County, in all phases and at all levels of the work. Contractor shall encourage maximum utilization of apprenticeship and other on-the-job training programs, to achieve this goal.

BEGINNING at a point on the southerly line of Miramar Avenue, which point is distant South 14° 30' West 38.6 feet, South 13° 05' West 123.9 feet and South 08° 10' West 35.65 feet from the point formed by the intersection of the southerly line of Reservoir Road with the westerly line of the Marin Municipal Water District Reservoir site in the Warden Tract, San Rafael; thence along the southerly line of Miramar Avenue North 86° 25' East 31.69 feet; thence South 22° 30' West 110.18 feet; thence North 67° 30' West 35.9 feet to the westerly line of Miramar Avenue; thence following the westerly and southerly lines of Miramar Avenue North 7° 50' West 78.15 feet; thence on a curve to the right with a radius of 15 feet, an arc distance of 30.82 feet; thence easterly 31.15 feet to the point of beginning.

EXCEPTING THEREFROM that portion thereof described as follows:

BEGINNING at the southwesterly corner of that certain tract of land conveyed by Helga E. Beck to James C. Chambers, et ux, by Deed recorded November 13, 1947 in Book 566 at page 165, Official Records of Marin County; running thence from said point of beginning along the westerly line of said tract North 22° 30' East 91.00 feet; thence leaving said line South 25° 19' West 91.11 feet; thence South 67° 30' East 4.48 feet to the point of beginning.

PARCEL TWO:

BEGINNING at a point in the westerly line of that certain tract of land conveyed by Helga E. Beck to James C. Chambers, et ux, by Deed recorded November 13, 1947 in Book 566 at page 165, Official Records of Marin County; distant thereon North 22° 30' East 91.00 feet from the southwesterly corner thereof; running thence from said point of beginning along said westerly line North 22° 30' East 17.18 feet to the southerly line of Miramar Avenue; running thence along said southerly line North 86° 25' East 0.96 feet; thence leaving said line South 25° 19' West 17.62 feet to the point of beginning.

Said sale will be made, without covenant or warranty regarding title, possession or encumbrances, to satisfy the obligations secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in a certain deed of trust executed by June Darling, an unmarried woman, as trustor, to Sequoia Title Company, as trustee, for the benefit and security of Manuel Kalman and Diane E. Kalman, his wife, as Joint Tenants, dated March 28, 1966 and recorded March 28, 1966, in the office of the Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California, in Book 2036 of Official Records, page 287.

A 25-cetn daily fee for parking on the north side of the Fairfax Parkade will go into effect on Monday, Police Cheif James Orr announced today.

The fee will be in effect from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and except holidays.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Doctors Have Hard Time When They Ignore What They Preach

VAN DELLEN

The medical fraternity may never live down the adage, "Do as I say and not as I do." This is to be expected in any advisory profession. But an obese medico can hardly expect a patient to follow his advice about reducing.

The same situation exists with the taboo on smoking if the doctor's ashtray is full of butts and he lights a cigarette at the end of the consultation.

THIS IS BECOMING less of a problem because a recent survey showed that 100,000 medicos are now ex-smokers. Those who smoke either are not afraid of cancer or lack will power.

But when the physician recommends abstinence, he usually means it. In this respect, he is not a crank who is addicted to don'ts and can'ts. He tells the patient: "You have a specific condition that will not improve unless you stop."

Medical advancements during the last two decades have made physicians more lenient about restrictions in general.

VARIOUS DISEASES no longer are mysterious, hence there is no need to grasp at straws for relief. Furthermore, numerous tests are available to determine the effects of tobacco, exercise, and diet upon the disturbance in question.

But sometimes, in attempting to prolong life, we neglect to promote health. The same occurs when the treatment is worse than the disease. Lack of exercise, a strict diet, or a change in occupation may create an unwholesome situation, both mentally and physically. This takes the joy out of living.

THE MAJORITY of physicians are well aware of these aspects of caring for the ill. They also will not recommend multitudinous taboos unless these restrictions are absolutely necessary and the results justify them.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

MOUNTAIN SICKNSS

A reader writes: What is mountain sickness? Last year we vacationed in the mountains. After a couple of days, my husband and I began to vomit and had diarrhea. We did not drink the local water.

REPLY

Mountain sickness usually stems from high altitudes. It is manifested by lightheadedness, weakness, and breathlessness. Diarrhea and vomiting result from contaminated food or water.

SLIMMING FAT LEGS

J. J. writes: Will any type of exercise reduce heavy legs and thick ankles in a young girl who is slim?

REPLY

No. For some women, this pattern is normal. In others, it represents a glandular disorder and the results of treatment depend upon the glands involved.

BALDNESS FROM HEAT?

M. O. writes: As a baker, my work exposes me to excessive heat from the ovens. Do you think this has any bearing on my loss of hair?

REPLY

RIGHT OR LEFT?

REPLY

PREGNANCY, DEATH

F. D. writes: If a pregnant woman should die, would it be possible to save a baby that is ready to be born?

REPLY

Yes, but delivery must be done immediately by caesarean section.

New York Socialite George Plimpton Weds

NEW YORK (AP) — George Plimpton, who's had an amateur fling at everything from pro football quarterbacking to tinkling a philharmonic triangle, has forsaken his franchise as one of New York's most eligible bachelors to try matrimony.

Plimpton, 40, the handsome and urbane author, editor of the Paris Review, was married last night to Freddy Medora Espy, a petite blonde photographer's assistant whom he met at a party in 1963.

Thus ended a long and illustrious bachelor's career during which Plimpton escorted Mrs. John F. Kennedy, Queen Elizabeth II, Ava Gardner, Jane Fonda and Jean Seberg at one time or another. The end came suddenly.

"I learned about all this at 10:30 this morning," Miss Espy, 26, said prior to the ceremony.

Plead Innocent To Drug Counts

Two men and a woman have pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to charges of marijuana possession and sale stemming from the confiscation of 300 pounds of the weed at a Fairfax home Saturday.

Preliminary hearing was set for April 26 for Eloise Bowen Erlin of 38 Redwood Road, scene of the raid, Gilbert Rance Dart, 24, of San Diego, and John Floyd Lindley, 25, of El Monte.

No charges have been filed against three others arrested in the raid — Darren Erlin, 23, husband of the accused woman; Terry Lee Pascole, 23, of Mill Valley; and Leona Friedenthale, 39, of Monterey Park.

Oregon Farms Grow

SALEM, Ore. (UPI)—Following the trend in the rest of the nation, Oregon's farms are getting bigger and bigger, but there are fewer of them every year. Census figures show about 39,800 farms in the state, approximately 9,000 fewer than 10 years ago.

September Debut Set For School

The new Oak View School in San Rafael Park will open in September, Dixie School District trustees have decided.

The trustees, meeting Wednesday, authorized Supt. Dennie B. Willis to recommend a principal and staff for the school, which will serve Twelve Oak Hill and San Rafael Park for kindergarten to either the fifth or the sixth grades.

Willis said he expects an enrollment of 270 in the new school this fall.

The Dixie School District trustees also:

MENTALLY RETARDED — Voted to withdraw from the county program for educable mentally retarded pupils and join the San Rafael City Schools program, at a saving of about $3,000 per year.

AIR CONDITIONING — Approved an air conditioning unit for Miller Creek School at a cost of about $1,600.

GIFTS — Received $646 worth of school supplies as a gift from the Don Timoteo Parent-Teacher Association, and $25 worth of plants for landscaping from Brownie and Girl Scout troops.

PERSONNEL — Accepted five resignations and three leaves of absences, and hired these teachers: Mrs. Carlene Madsen, a 1965 graduate of San Jose State College; Mrs. Bernice Gilardi, former teacher in the Reed Union School District; Miss Leslie Bronzine and Miss Rosemary Figone, 1967 graduates of Dominican College; and Mrs. Evelyn Moran, who has 11 years of experience in Sacramento schools.

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Burt Monroe, one of the state's top wildlife authorities, was hard pressed to live up to his introduction at a local school. He was brought on like this "And now children we will listen to a wild animal talk."

U.S. Pacification Chief Flays Corruption Claims

SAIGON (UPI)—Robert W. Komer, chief of U.S. pacification efforts in Vietnam, today dismissed as "grotesque" a charge that half of the $450 million a year U.S. aid program to Vietnam is stolen by corrupt Vietnamese officials.

The charge was made last week by Sydney J. Roche, an official in the pacification program who resigned to protest waste and corruption. Roche said, "The average Vietnamese thinks we're damn fools."

Asked to comment on Roche's "final report," written and made public, Komer said: "Wildly exaggerated. I don't want to comment on the record on what these birds say."

"Corruption is easy to talk about and hard to do anything about," Komer said.

"This is a country that has gone through 20 years of war. But the amounts, these grotesque estimates, I think are just as wild."

Auto's Tachometer Stolen In Tiburon

Japanese Rites

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— The Japanese flag flew on City Hall yesterday to mark dedication of the $15 million Japanese cultural and trade center. Shinto priests led a procession of pioneer Japanese American families of four generations into the center's Peace Plaza to open the dedication.

Lawyers Pick Press-Trial Liaison Unit

CHICAGO (UPI)—The American Bar Association named a seven-man committee yesterday to "encourage cooperation of the bar and the media of communication in voluntary measures to protect the rights of fair and trial and free press."

The seven men were appointed by ABA President Earl F. Morris of Columbus, Ohio, after the ABA's House of Deelegates authorized the committee to "assist in effectuating" the association's standards adopted in the "Reardon Report" at a meeting in February.

The report, drawn up by a special ABA committee headed by Justice Paul C. Reardon of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, recommended mainly that police, defense attorneys and judges be restrained from disclosing information about criminal records, confessions or admission of guilt, and the results of such tests as fingerprinting and lie detection in order to insure a fair trial.

Named to the ABA Legal Advisory Committee on Fair Trial and Free Press were U.S. District Court Judge Edward J. Spencer of the Nebraska Supreme Court; Douglas A. Amello of Washington, D.C., general counsel of the National Association of Broadcasters; Herbert H. Anderson of Portland, Ore., advisory member of the ABA public relations committee, and George S. Bradley of Toledo, Ohio, general counsel of the Toledo Blade newspaper.

Giants' Bats Come Alive To Bomb Those Angels

PHOENIX, Ariz (AP)—Southpaw Ray Sadecki, one of the bright spots of the San Francisco Giants' spring training camp, was scheduled for at least five innings of work today as the Giants met the Clevelland Indians.

If Sadecki, who finished strong at 12-6 last year, gets the bat support that Bob Bolin did yesterday, he'll not have much to worrk about.

Bolin hurled five shutout innings, allowing three hits, while the Giants were blasting four California pitchers for 22 hits in an 18-3 victory.

OFF HERBEL

The three Angel runs came off Ron Herel in the seventh on a two-run triple by Paul Schaal and a sacrifice by Jim Fregosi. Joe Gibbon finished up, setting the Angels down in order in the ninth.

Jim Davenport had a perfect day for the Giants with four hits in four trips, including a triple. Catcher Bob Barton had three hits in four trips.

Also hitting triples for the Giants were Willie McCovey, Jesus Alou, Jack Hiatt, Bob Etheridge and Ollie Brown.

Ricky Clark, Minnie Rojas, Jack Hamilton and Jim Weaver were victims of the Giant bats, with Clark, the starter, giving up 14 hits and eight runs in five innings.

The Los Angeles Dodgers play the Giants this weekend, with Gaylord Perry set to oppose Alan Foster at Mesa on Saturday and Juan Marichal going against Claude Osteen on Sunday at Phoenix.

Three young pitchers — Rich Robertson, Nestor Chavez and Joe Costello—were sent to the minors Friday, trimming the Giants' roster to 29. Four more players must be cut by opening day.

A newcomer to the minor league camp at Casa Grande, was Dick Radatz, one-time star reliever who failed to make the Chicago Cubs.

Giant Vice President Charles Feeney said Radatz would be given a tryout and if he is impressive, may stick with Phoenix of the Pacific Coast League.

A's Roster Down To 29

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Reggie Jackson, 21-year-old rookie outfielder, crashed into a fence chasing—and catching—a long foul and cut his arm, but he survived another cut.

That was the Oakland Athletics' transfer of four athletes yesterday to the roster of their Vancouver club in the Pacific Coast League.

NOT SERIOUS

In the second inning, Joe Hague sent Jackson crashing against the right field fence at McKechnie Field. Reggie held the ball, but cut his left arm and left the game. The cut wasn't serious.

Jackson's retention as the A's cut their American League squad to 27—only two over the April 9 limit of 25—was encouraging.

Jackson is a left-handed hitter with power. There had seemed to be a question whether he or Joe Rudi would stick. Rudi was sent to Vancouver.

Manager Bob Kennedy is seeking left-handed batting power in the outfield. Jackson has hit two homers and one triple this spring and has a .227 batting average. In 114 games with Birmingham last season, he hit 17 home runs and 17 triples and stole 17 bases. He batted .293.

He says he's proudest of three home runs in one game at Modesto of the California League in 1966.

SAME SWITCH

For the second successive day, he had Sal Bando, who has hit eight homers this spring, in left, where he never before had played. Bando had no unusual chances and performed capably.

Also for a second day, second baseman John Donaldson was at third and Dick Green back at second. Both did well with routine chances.

Novato Golfer Ray Leach Earns A Cover Picture

COVER BOY — The other day I was yakking about two San Rafael golf figures — Harry Obitz and Ron Cerrudo — earning a lot of ink in Esquire Magazine.

It's a honey of an article about the great young star, complete with a full page action shot of Ray on the inside cover and another full page picture accompanying the article.

The story says Ray "... is considered quite a a swinger in a region where youth is known for its swinging ways."

Ray's dad, Al Leach, is quoted as saying: "He was a natural if I ever saw one. From the very beginning, he had a most impressive swing. Soon he was playing every chance he had."

RAY LEACH

Won First Trophy At Age 11

That was at age 11 when Ray won the first of his many trophies — the Redwood Empire under 12 title. Since then he has dominated the junior golf field and missed by one stroke of becoming the youngest player in history to qualify for the U.S. Open.

Leach's coach, Al Scott, says of Ray: "He has been complimented several times by professional golfers on his poise, class and tremendous potential. He is a youth who definitely knows where he wants to go.

"He has accomplished a great deal in his young career and yet it has not affected his personality. Other young golfers enjoy playing with him because he will help them if they request it — even in a match.

"It is a tremendous pleasure to be associated with an athlete like Ray Leach. This young man has a very bright future."

So Refreshing To Know His Kind

It is so refreshing to know a lad like Ray. In these times when the papers are full of stories of the long-haired hippies, delinquents, speed, marijuana (grass), how nice it is to read about the Ray Leaches who have conquered grass — literally.

And Leach will be out to defend his title in the Alameda Commuters Tournament starting tomorrow at Alameda Municipal course. He'll be teeing off at 8:50 a.m., with Jim Brown of San Rafael included in his foursome.

THE VOICE — Only 21 coaches and managers turned out for the Atlanta Braves-sponsored baseball clinic in San Rafael last Saturday.

Braves scout Joe Anselmo of San Rafael, who conducted the clinic, said: "Such a small turnout as that was an insult to the outstanding speakers we had on the program."

Anselmo said New York Yankee holdout John Boccabella ". . . did a marvelous job as one of the speakers." But paisano Anselmo shouldn't have been surprised at Johnny Sock-the-balla's speaking talents. After all, Boccabella in Italian means "pretty mouth."

Drake Golfers Top Terra Linda

Drake High School ended its practice golf season with a 225-233 victory over Terra Linda at San Geronimo Golf Course yesterday.

The win gave the Pirates a sharp 5-1 record to bring into the Marin County Athletic League race.

Bob McLean of Drake and Rick Timmer of Terra Linda tied for medalist honors with 43. Other Drake scorers were John Hellwig, 44, Larry McArdell, 48; Ed Harrington, 47; Tom Schall, 45, and Gene Hamilton, 46. Terra Linda scorers were John Collett, 47, Dave Crawford, 46, Tang Dahl, 51, Art Widworth, 48, and Tony Davis, 49.

Jim Kaat Nursing Sore Elbow

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The California Angels and Baltimore Orioles have had their wings clipped but Jim Kaat's elbow trouble has thrown the Minnesota Twins for a bigger loss.

San Francisco unleashed a 22-hit barrage against four California pitchers Thursday and rolled to an 18-3 exhibition baseball triumph over the Angels at Phoenix, Ariz.

X-RAYS

Kaat, Minnesota's southpaw pitching ace, flew from Orlando, Fla., to the Twin Cities last night to begin a series of X-ray treatments on his ailing left elbow, injured in the next-to-last game of the 1967 season.

Elsewhere on the exhibition schedule, St. Louis trimmed Oakland 3-1, Cincinnati nipped Detroit 4-3 in 14 innings, Pittsburgh topped Houston 3-1, Los Angeles drubbed the Chicago White Sox 11-4, the New York Yankees downed the New York Mets 5-1, the Chicago Cubs edged Cleveland 5-3 and Philadelphia shaded Atlanta 4-2.

Pascual, who allowed four hits in six innings, and Denehy hurled the Senators to their 12th victory in 17 spring starts. The Orioles have scored just one unearned run in the last 30 innings.

NO ONE KNOWS

Kaat, who ruptured a muscle in his elbow at Boston last Sept. 30, could be sidelined for some time because of an irritated nerve. "We expect the X-ray treatments to be helpful," said Dr. Harvey O'Phelan, the Twins' team physician. "No one really knows.

"Our present plan is to put him on the disabled list at the start of the season."

Another ailing player, Atlanta outfielder Rico Carty, is undergoing tests in a Lantana, Fla., hospital to determine if he has tuberculosis. He was reported "feeling fine and walking around" yesterday but asked that details of his confinement not be released.

IT'S DEFINITE: CARTY HAS TUBERCULOSIS

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Outfielder Rico Carty definitely has tuberculosis, the Atlanta Braves announced today.

"Results of tests were positive at the Southeast Florida Tuberculosis Hospital," a team spokesman said. "But doctors say it is not as serious as was first thought.

"Doctors tell us that Rico will be 100 per cent healthy by the 1969 season," the spokesman said.

Carty, 27-year-old slugger who has a four-year batting average of .305 for the Braves, was taken to the hospital at nearby Lantana Wednesday night after preliminary tests indicated he had tuberculosis.

Ryun Needs Three-Week Healing Time

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—World record miler Jim Ryun got doctor's advice today to postpone competitive running for at least three weeks to enable a pulled hamstring muscle to heal.

The hamstring muscle, pulled in a workout Monday, was re-examined today by Dr. Bernard Joyce.

"He told me a reinjury now would put me out for an entire year and advised a slow and gradual program for beginning to run again," Ryun said.

He said he hopes I would be ready to run by the time of the Kansas Relays but wants to make further examinations." The Kansas Relays are scheduled April 20.

This means Ryun will miss not only this weekend's dual meet between Kansas and UCLA but also next week's Texas Relays and a dual meet the following weekend between Kansas and the University of Florida at Gainesville.

Doug Sanders Looking Past Jacksonville To Britain

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — If Doug Sanders doesn't win the Masters Golf Tournament in April, his next big goal will be the British Open in mid-July.

It's not that he isn't planning to press his one-stroke advantage over the field in today's second round of the Greater Jacksonville Open. But Sanders has won it before and he knows another prestige victory would establish him among the elite of the game.

"The British Open to me could excel the big American tournaments such as the Masters, U.S. Open and PGA," Sanders said. "I have business interests in the British Empire and I figure the British Open would mean half a million dollars more to me than any of the three major tournaments in the United States."

That is true, he said, even though the big domestic tourneys are so valuable for commercial gains through endorsements and other side benefits.

Sanders stands fifth in the list of modern era money winners in golf. His earnings of $493,655 rank right behind Arnold Palmer, Bill Casper, Jack Nicklaus and Julius Boros. All of them have won more than one major event and are secure.

Sanders has been a tourney winner most often in the first four months of the year. He's doing something to change that pattern.

"I used to work hard on my game in November and December," he said. "I played well in the early-season tournaments, but comes summer I'm completely birdied out."

This season, he said he worked on his business interests in November and December, letting his golf game coast along.

"I've been putting it together the past couple weeks and hope it's going full blast two weeks from now in the Masters," he said.

65 ROUND

Sanders headed the pack with a seven-under-par 65 into the second round of the $100,000 Jacksonville Open.

He shot an easy eagle—two wood shots and a two-foot putt—and five birdies in yesterday's opening round.

Five challengers were one stroke behind him and 60 others broke par 72 on the 7,221-yard Deerwood Club course.

Santo Says He's Out For Haller, Perry

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Bad blood between Ron Santo, Chicago Cub third baseman and catcher Tom Haller of the Los Angeles Dodgers, may reach the boiling point Monday.

That's when the Cubs and Dodgers meet for the first time this year in an exhibition game at Mesa, Ariz.

Santo is sore at both Haller and Giants' right-hander Gaylord Perry, San Francisco battery mates of a year ago, over a bean ball incident that happened late last season.

The feud between Santo and Perry flared anew in a recent game this spring, when, according to Santo, Perry threatened to knock down Cub catcher Randy Hundley.

Santo charged after Perry, only to be restrained by several players. Afterward, Chicago sources quoted Santo as saying he was out "to get" both Perry and Haller.

Haller didn't learn about the threat until yesterday.

"Well, I'm sure I'll be behind the plate Monday when Santo comes up to bat and if anything is going to happen, it'll happen then," Haller said Thursday night after the Dodgers won an exhibition from the Chicago White Sox, 11-4.

"One of the Cub pitchers knocked down Jim Davenport," he said. "Santo was the first batter to come up for the Cubs in the next inning and I said, 'Ron, you're going down.' He said, 'Why me?' I said, 'Because your pitcher threw at Davenport.'

"Santo was looking for the knockdown pitch but Perry threw him two straight strikes" Haller said. "The next pitch was up and in and Santo swung and missed. I think that's what he's sore about—he looked bad striking out."

Fast-Rising Middleweight In Key Bout

OAKLAND (AP)—Fast-rising Ralph McCoy of Richmond hopes to take a step toward the middleweight boxing championship tonight in the Oakland Arena.

McCoy, who has six knockouts in his six professional fights, meets Eduard Miller of Hermosillo, Mexico, in one of two featured bouts scheduled for 10 rounds.

Analy Nine Edges San Rafael, 3-2

Analy High of Sebastopol used that sequence for a run in the top of the seventh inning to edge the Bulldogs 3-2 at Albert Field in San Rafael. Reliever Dave Olbrantz was the victim, being stung with the defeat. San Rafael's non-league record is now 4-2.

Warriors Will See Some Changes

OAKLAND (AP) — Richie Guerin, Coach-of-the-Year in the National Basketball Association, says some changes will be made in his St. Louis Hawks' game plan and probably in the line-up.

He hopes to rally them from their 2-1 deficit in the best-of-7 series with the San Francisco Warriors in tonight's fourth game of the first round Western Division semifinal playoffs.

As for the game tonight, to start at 8:30 in the Oakland Arena, Guerin said:

"Yes, I'm going to make a little change . . . some changes," but declined to hint at them. "I can't tip the Warriors."

Declining to discuss them, he explained. "If I decide to change, there will be a reason. Possibly I will tell the reason after the game."

What of the Hawks' prospects in this series?

"I'm disappointed to be down 1-2. We haven't played well. Our offense is off. I know the reason, there's no excuse for it."

That could explain his potential line-up change.

Guerin gave his Hawks full credit for helping make him Coach-of-the-Year. "If the players didn't win, I wouldn't have got this honor," he said.

His Hawks won the Western Division title. The Warriors were third, falling from a contender after All-Star center Nate Thurmond went out in midseason for a knee operation.

Paul Silas, one of the Hawks' best rebounders and a consistent 13.4 average scorer, predicted St. Louis will sweep the next three games. He said the Warriors "caught fire. They were better than we expected."

St. Louis beat the Warriors seven out of eight games in the regular season, but their coach, Bill Sharman, changed his game plan and won the playoff opener in St. Louis and the first game here, Tuesday.

UCLA '5' Has Tough Schedule

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA's national collegiate champion basketball team will face possibly its toughest competition next season when the Bruins attempt to win an unprecedented third straight title.

Athletic Director J.D. Morgan announced yesterday that the Bruins will play a 26-game regular season schedule which includes Houston, this year's champion of the Associated Press poll, and Ohio State, champion of the Big Ten and an NCAA finalist this year.

Also set to take on the mighty men of Westwood are Purdue, Loyola of Chicago and three teams participating in the Holiday Festival in New York.

Included in the field of eight for the Dec. 27-30 Tourney are North Carolina, runner-up to the Bruins in this year's NCAA finals, Michigan State, Villanova, St. Johns, Holy Cross, Niagara and Princeton.

At Tampa, Fla., the Reds pushed over the winning run on Don Wert's bases-loaded error in the 14th and matched St. Louis' 13-6 exhibition mark.

BIG DOUBLE

Ron Fairly's three-run double keyed a 14-hit attack that carried the Dodgers past the White Sox in a night game at Vero Beach, Fla.

Frank Fernandez drove in two runs with a homer and single in the Yankees' victory over the Mets at St. Petersburg, Fla.

At Tucson Ariz., the Cubs struck for three first inning runs and held off Cleveland behind right-hander Ferguson Jenkins, who scattered nine hits in seven innings.

Boston Lets A Little Air Out Of Pistons' Bubble

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons' National Basketball Association playoff bubble didn't burst last night. But Player-Coach Bill Russell and his Boston Celtics let a little air out of it.

Inserting John Havlicek into the line-up in a rare starting role, and changing his offense with a "different set of plays," Russell led Boston to a 135-110 National Basketball Association victory over Detroit.

The triumph evened the Eastern Division semifinal best-of-7 series at two games apiece.

"We had to win it," said Russell, who had 16 points and 21 rebounds. "I didn't feel real good tonight. But some nights you feel great and don't do anything."

Trailing 77-71 with 6:10 to go in the third quarter, Russell sparked a 19-point rally to put his team in front 95-86 going into the fourth quarter. Russell had eight points and eight rebounds in the burst.

Boston turned on its patented fast break in the final quarter, leading by as many as 28 points before Russell put in his reserve. Havlicek led Boston with 35 points.

Boston outrebounded Detroit 77-45 and outshot Detroit 54 per cent to 44, including 72 per cent in the hot third quarter.

Hitting 14 of its first 22 shots, Detroit jumped to a 33-28 first-quarter lead and held a 65-60 advantage at the half. Dave Bing led Detroit with 26 points.

"We started to run our fast break and our momentum kept up in the fourth quarter," said Havlicek, who added it made no difference to him whether he started or came off the bench as the sixth man.

Bulldogs Snare Tamalpais Net Giantkillers, 6-2

In something of a turnabout, Tamalpais High School's tennis team, fresh from a stunning upset of College of Marin, lost to unbeaten San Rafael in a non-league tennis meet.

The Bulldogs won their sixth straight yesterday, 6-2, taking three doubles matches and two singles wins, with Tom Klyce and Tony Lugo winning singles matches and the teams of Jim Youtz and Dave Mills, Jon Marlowe and Waddell Smith and Bob Taylor and Jerry Draper sweeping the doubles.

Oregon's Rogue River Draws Many California Fishermen

STEVENS

There is no marked change in the action with salmon trolling outside the Gate, so that gives me a chance to answer a request of a reader in South County.

He wants to know if I can state when the salmon and steelhead season opens on the Rogue River just over the line at Gold Beach, Ore. (Wedderburn), upstream to Grant's Pass. "Also, Mr. Stevens, can you write a paragraph or so about the river trip from Grant's Pass to Gold Beach?"

THERE CAN be no question about it, the Rogue River trip by boat for 120 miles downstream from Grant's Pass is a real adventure. It's not only scenic, it is rewarding fishwise. The season is open right now, but I advise waiting until at least July to do any fishing on the Rogue. Oldtimers maintain that the best time is July through December. You won't be alone on the Rogue, almost as many anglers from California as from Oregon.

Be prepared to spend seven or eight days on the down-river trip from Grant's Pass to Gold Beach at Wedderburn.

THE DOWN ROGUE River guided by an expert usually requires seven or eight days. You can fish, or hunt or just soak up Nature's tonic. Figure any time of the year from May to December, but the best months are September and October. The cost was $125 for guide and boat for an eight day trip. Only two anglers and the guide will occupy a boat. The cost of $125 includes return trip to Grant's Pass where you left your car. (The costs of the trips may have changed materially, so I recommend that anyone interested contact the Grant's Pass Chamber of Commerce, Grant's Pass, Ore.)

A number of telephone calls have come in this week asking when the season on deer will open. I cannot answer that question, because the seasons will not be set officially until the last day in May. I could say that the chances are that the early season on deer hunting usually opens near the first weekend in August, but it won't be legal until after the Department of Fish and Game announces the exact date when the first, or early season, will be set. There are two general areas that open. The "early" season as remarked above. The "late" season will be announced by the department at the time the dates for the early season have been adopted.

THE LATE NORTHERN season and opening for deer hunting is usually set around the last week in September, but again I caution you not to make plans for your deer hunt well in advance of the official opening dates. Also the various dates on the special hunts will be released at about the same dates. You must be patient and wait the announcements.

Ex-Prep Star Wounded In Vietnam

Allen, a paratrooper, sustained facial injuries requiring 90 stitches, and will have to undergo plastic surgery.

A 1966 graduate of San Rafael High School, Allen held three school records—the 100 Freestyle (50.6) which is the best time in the event ever achieved by a Marin County athlete, the 200 Freestyle (152.6) and the 400 Freestyle (4:20.0).

The Bulldogs, under coaches Larry Lack and Ron Arturi, won four straight Marin County Athletic League dual-meet titles in Allen's four years at the school.

Lack called Allen's performance in the 1965 Northern California Relay Championship his "finest hour". Allen swam a 152.0 anchor lap in the 200 Freestyle Relay which gave San Rafael a 28-28 tie with Palo Alto High School, then the number one-ranked high school team in the nation.

Houston Official Declares All-Out War Against NBA

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Mavericks of the young American Basketball Association charged yesterday that the San Diego Rockets of the NBA slipped "at least $5,800" to University of Houston superstar Elvin Hayes while he still was playing college ball.

The 6-9½ Hayes, college player of the year, signed with San Diego of the National Basketball Association Wednesday for an estimated $440,000 over four years.

T. C. Morrow, president of the Mavericks, held a news conference yesterday to declare — among other things — "all-out war" against the NBA over the Hayes signing.

Morrow said the Mavericks still would give Hayes $750,000 for three years.

Morrow said at least $5,000 went to Hayes from the Rockets 30 days ago.

Both Walter Kennedy, commissioner of the NBA, and Rockets president Robert Breitbard denied any such payment.

Hayes was contacted in Schenectady, N.Y., last night and withheld any comment, save to say he would hold a news conference this afternoon.

Morrow said he was told "by an ABA owner who was in San Diego that a sum of at least $5,000 changed hands between Hayes and the Rockets 30 days ago."

"As a result of our playing according to the rules we lost out and came in second," Morrow added. "But from this date on, it will be all out war."

In denying Morrow's statement, Kennedy said at New York it is "absolutely false to intimate in any way that any NBA official ever contacted Hayes 30 days ago or that Hayes received any money from any NBA team or official before San Diego signed him."

"Hayes said when he signed his contract that he wanted to play with and against the best basketball players in the world and this must have been very meaningful to him," Kennedy said.

Morrow said Hayes' signing with San Diego came as a shock to the Mavericks.

MARIN BOWLING

Gals' Secretary Rolls 644 Series

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Marilyn Epidendio, that bowling San Rafael housewife, had a mighty big score this week.

Secretary of the Marin County Woman's Bowling Association, Mrs. Epidendio put together games of 220, 192 and 232 for a 644 series at Country Club Bowl, in the 600 Travel League.

But it wasn't even her best score of the league. She rolled a 659 earlier in the year. And if that 644 wasn't enough, she made the honor roll at Greenbrae Lanes with a 534.

Terry DeYoung again was a double honor roller with Nave Lanes series of 644 and 623.

PICKIN' 'EM UP — While Frank Brown was going up the ladder by the 10s (157-167-177) in the Twilight Twirlers League at Country Club Bowl, leaguemate Isabel McPherson was going down the same ladder (177-167-157) . . . George Knowles converted the 6-7 in the Twirlers League . . . Chick Ayers of the 840 Scratch at Nave Lanes blasted a 267 game . . . Big games at Country Club Bowl came from Tom Amiral (266), Elmer Tynes (256) and Bill Henderson (255) . . . Ann Arnott had a 245 game on top of her 582 in the TGIF League . . The wigs were really rolling at Country Club, Eve Gatto (116 avg.) rolling a 214-505 in the Wig League No. 2 and Sheila Bebo (145 avg.) a 226-547 in the Wig League No. 3 . . . Shirley Larsen rolled her first 500, a 508 in the Hits and Mrs. League, a few days after rolling a step-ladder 136-156-176 in the Bowling Bags League, both at Greenbrae Lanes.

STRIKES TO SPARE — Sharon Farup also made it over 500 for the first time, 501 in the Bowling Bags ... Garath Grocery team of the 905 Travel League finnalley ended the Zappetini and Sons winning streak at 19 games . . . Joe Stocker of the San Quentin Mixed League, wowed 'em all, the 162 averager rolling games of 214, 239 and 232 for his 685 series . . . Randy Cox led the North Bay Junior Travel youngsters with a 213-586 . . . Gotelli's Equipment Rental took over first place for high team score in the Classy Lassies at Country Club Bowl, 679 . . . - Julie DePillo, 134 average, roll her first 200, a big 224 in the Coffee Cuppers at Greenbrae Lanes.

ON THE HEADPIN — The splits were really falling in the Monday Washday League at Nave Lanes, Betty Cullins converting the 6-7-10, ditto Pat Bunds, and Gail Poling the 4-7-10; Gertie Bonfiglio (145 avg.) rolled 146-145-146 in the same league . . . Grace Mueller toppled over the 3-6-7-8-10 leave in the Greenbrae Ladies 600 Classic, and that is a hellava spare . . . Alice Mola converted the 6-7-10 in the Hits and Mrs. at Greenbrae . . . Joan Lillpot did the same in the Two of Each Kind, while Ellen Ussery went 111 pins over average, 522 . . . - Joyce Frey made good on the 4-6-9 (wow!) reports secretary Elsie Meyers of the Winter Wonders League at Country Club . . .

THIS AND THAT —Harlan Lape rolled a near-triplicate in the Mixed Mates at Greenbrae Lanes, 158-158-162 . . . Two firsts for Pat Schoenfeld of the Morning Glories at Country Club Bowl, 210 and 536, while it was split day in that league, Jamie Brown, Clare Graham and Linda Walters all making the 6-7-10 a Inez Lowman the 6-7 . . . In the Elks League at Country Club Bowl, Dick Gotelli (123 avg.) went on a rampage, 172-207-190—569 causing all kinds of shouts of sandbagger . . . Alsoi n the Elks, Jim Fitzgerald had a consistent 190-190-195 and Cazassa's bowled high team series of the year, 2,237 . . . It was a night for explosions in the Lucky Strikes League at Country Club Bowl, 162 average bowler Mike Tauscher leading the way with 214-214-231 — 659, followed by Jim White (145 avg.), 236 and Larry Azevedo (141 avg.), 224.

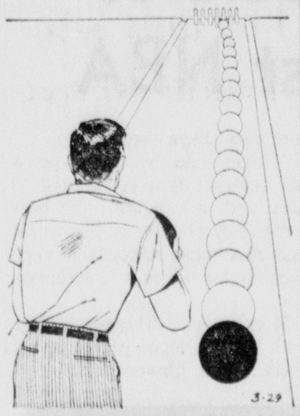
BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Before you bowl, take a few seconds to visualize the path you wish the ball to follow. This will help you orient yourself to the task at hand. Be careful to take the starting position which is proper for the pins you wish to hit. Everything comes easier if you have a set plan.

Killy Plans To Race In Last Two World Cup Ski Meets

RED MOUNTAIN, B.C. (UPI) —The big question at the du Maurier International Ski Meet today was whether Jean-Claude Killy would compete in both the slalom and giant slalom events.

Killy was entered in today's slalom and the 25-year-old French superstar had said earlier he would ski in only one event here.

Killy, who arrived here yesterday from the United States, has an unbeatable lead in points for the 1968 men's World Cup. He said yesterday he would compete in the final event in this year's World Cup schedule at Heavenly Valley, Calif., April 6-7.

After winning three gold medals at this year's Winter Olympics at Grenoble, France, Killy announced he would retire from amateur ski competition when the season closes.

Killy's toughest competition today was expected to come from Gerhard Nenning of Austria, who now ranks third in the World Cup standings.

Miss Goitschel's combined time for two runs was 90.91 seconds. Finishing second was Fernande Bochatay of Switzerland in 91.96, and Kiki Cutter of Bend, Ore., was third in 92.52.

Unbeaten Favorite In Santa Anita Derby

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — As expected, William Haggin Perry of Kentucky thoroughbred racing fame has the probable favorite, unbeaten Dewan, in tomorrow's $100,000-added Santa Anita Derby.

The Bold Ruler colt was quoted as an 8-5 choice today in the track's early line as a field of 10 3-year-olds were formally entered in the 31st running of the 1⅛ mile Derby.

Indiana Takes Early Swim Lead

HANOVER, N.H. (AP) — Indiana's perennial bridesmaids don't want to wait any longer for the NCAA Swimming Championship. Judging from their impressive opening day performance, they may not have to.

"We've been working all year for this," said an elated Charlie Hickcox after smashing the American record for the second time in one day yesterday while leading a 1-2 Hoosier finish in the 200-yard individual medley.

"We really want to get this one for Doc," he said of Coach Jim "Doc" Counsilman, whose Indiana teams finished second three straight times from 1964 to 1966, and then wound up third last year.

RECORD TIMES

Hickcox sliced five-tenths of a second off the U.S. record with a clocking of one minute, 53.9 seconds in his afternoon heats, then came back with a runaway victory in the finals in 1:52.6. Captain Bill Utley came in second, and the Hoosiers were on their way to a commanding first-day lead.

Councilman said he expected improvement by Hickcox in the medley, but nothing like what occurred.

"That was the greatest surprise of my life when I looked at my watch and saw that time," he said.

HOOSIER'S NIGHT

They dominated the one-meter springboard diving, taking four of the top six places, including a first by Jim Henry.

Another American record was lowered in the 800-yard free style relay when Olympian Don Schollander anchored Yale's team to a 6:50.8 clocking.

Other first-night winners were Greg Charlton of Southern California with a 4:38.2 for the 500-yard free-style and Zac Zorn of UCLA, who defended his 50-yard free style crown in 21 seconds flat.

Indiana wound up with 129 points entering the second day of the three-day meet. Southern California was second with 77, followed by defending champion Stanford with 74 and Yale with 73.

California's Raul Rojas Wins Featherweight Title

The 25-year-old walloper from nearby San Pedro staged two savage offensives, in the 12th and the final 15th round, to grab the votes of the officials last night.

Thus, in the eyes of the WBA, Rojas fills the void in the 126-pound division created when Mexico's Vicente Saldivar retired last October after knocking out Howard Winstone of Wales in 12 rounds in Mexico City. Winstone still is recognized in some quarters as the champion.

Rojas, whose only defeat in 35 fights was to Saldivar here in May 1965, blasted Higgins, 25, through the ropes in the 12th round. Higgins never was actually down—he'd never been decked before—but he took a mandatory eight-count from referee Dick Young.

Kaiser Shares Split Takes Effect Today

Common stockholders of Kaiser Steel Corp. have approved the common stock split of three shares for every two shares outstanding proposed by the corporation's directors last month.

The split will be made effective at the close of business today.

A major expansion of cold rolled sheet production by Kaiser Steel is expected to result from the new rolling mill planned for the company's Fontana plant. Improvements including the new installation will cost more than $35 million. Cold rolled sheet up to 48 inches wide will be produced.

W. T. GRANT CO. directors hace declared a regular quarterly dividend on common stock of 32.5 cents per share — up from 27.5 cents paid in the previous quarter. The dividend is payable April 1. On the annual rate, the increased dividend is $1.30 per common share, compared with the previous $1.10. It is the company's third increase more than doubling the annual divident rate in the past five years.

SIMON STORES, INC. of Oakland has omitted the current quarterly dividend usually voted at this time, despite an improvement of almost $700,000 in pretax income during the past year. The company's policy is to consider dividend payments independently each quarter.

TRANS WORLD AIRLINES has filed an application with the Civil Aeronautics Board for authority to serve Salt Lake City. TWA proposes to provide service between Salt Lake City and San Francisco, St. Louis, Chicago, New York and Washington-Baltimore. In addition the city would be connected with all points in the U.S., Europe, Africa and Asia served by the airline.

STANDARD FRUIT AND STEAMSHIP CO., New Orleans stockholders have approved a proposal that Castle and Cooke Inc. of Honolulu acquire full ownership of the company through a merger in which minority stockholders will exchange on a basis of 1.2 Castle and Cooke common shares for each Standard Fruit share.

U.S. PLYWOOD CHAMPION PAPERS, INC. will acquire approximately 180,000 acres of timberland and other assets from W. T. Carter and Bros. in the Camden, Texas area, subject to a favorable tax ruling. Other properties include a sawmill and lumber finishing operation. The acquisition will raise the timberlands owned and managed by U.S. Plywood Champion in Texas to more than one-half million acres.

THE GRASS VALLEY GROUP, INC., manufacturer and marketer of components for broadcasting equipment, has proposed a two-for-one stock split. Shareholders will vote on the proposal April 18. The company was incorporated in 1959 and is traded over the counter. Initial stock offering to the public was made last November.

DOW JONES AND CO., publisher of the Wall Street Journal, will begin Dow Jones Business Newscasts for radio and television stations on May 1. First program will be available for broadcast daily at 7 a.m. EST. Thereafter programs will be delivered for broadcast hourly from 11 a.m. through 6 p.m.,

SYSTRON-DONNER CORP. of Concord (Contra Costa County) will acquire Micro-Radionics, Inc., Van Nuys and Wavelabs Co., San Diego with annual sales of $2 and $1 million annually respectively. Directors of all three companies have agreed to the terms in principle. Systron-Donner earned 71 cents per share in the first half of its 1968 fiscal year. A three-for-two stock split became effective March 1.

MERCEDES-BENZ IS RESTYLED

This 250 model, top of the medium priced range of Mercedes-Benz has been completely restyled with heavy rubber inserts in the bumper and chrome molding along the sides. There is also a new treatment in the rear deck, tail light assembles and roof line. This model comes equipped with four-wheel, power-assisted disc brakes. It is sold in Marin at Rossi Garage, San Rafael.

Wall Street Finishes Up; Trade Active

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed with a substantial gain in more active trading today.

Blue chips and glamour stocks advanced together. Gold and silver-mining issues fell as the Stockholm monetary conference got under way.

Unverified reports that the White House was considering a pause in the bombing of North Vietnam were among the "peace" items which caused buying and considerable short covering which increased the uptrend.

IBM raced up a dozen points.

Lockheed climbed about 5 points on news of its $2.16-billion contract to produce the big passenger plane known as the airbus for TWA, Eastern Airlines and Airholdings Ltd. of Britain.

Among other active gainers, Control Data rose more than 5, Polaroid 3, Itek 2, Teledyne 3, Avnet and Fairchild Camera a point or more.

Among market wheel horses, gains of a point or more were scored by General Motors, Chrysler, Boeing, Sperry Rand, Eastman Kodak and Royal Dutch. Lorillard rose 2.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were generally higher.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Wikel

If you are in business and your auto is used exclusively for business purposes, the cost of its operation is deductible on Schedule C, Form 1040.

If you are an employee and use your car exclusively in your work, you can deduct the total cost of its operation: Such as gasoline, oil, repairs, garage rent, insurance, depreciation, interest, taxes, licenses, etc.

If you use your car for both personal and business travel, you must divide your expenses. Suppose you are a salesman and drive your car 20,000 miles during the year, 8,000 miles for business and 12,000 miles for personal, only 8,000/20,000 or 40 per cent of the total cost may be claimed as a business or employment expense.

Under Revenue Procedure 64-10, you can just keep a record of the business use of your car. You can deduct 10 cents per mile for the first 15,000 miles and 7 cents per mile for miles over 15,000 miles in each year.

The miles must be for business use and you must have a record of them.

If your employer reimbursed you less than 10 cents a mile, and you'd do better with 10-and-7 cents per mile, you can deduct the difference.

The mileage allowance is not available if you took the extra first-year depreciation allowance on your car, or you took depreciation on one of the accelerated methods.

The mileage allowance is instead of auto expense, depreciation, insurance, etc. You can't take both. But you can take parking fees and bridge and road tolls attributable to business travel.

Also under Revenue Procedure 64-15, you can deduct 5 cents per mile for the use of your car to secure medical care, or for charitable contributions, where automobile expense qualifies as deductible as a medical expense or as a charitable contribution.

These expenses include: Gasoline taxes — California 7 cents per gallon; state and local sales taxes; interest on auto loans; casualty and theft losses over $100; and California license fees in excess of $9 ($10 if a station wagon).

Caution. If you have used your car for business and personal travel, and if you itemize your deductions, be sure that you list on page 2 of your return only the interest, taxes, etc., which were not claimed as traveling or transportation expense anywhere else on your return. An expense can be deducted only once.

Car pools. Expenses of an automobile used in a car pool to and from work is a personal expense and not deductible. Amounts received from passengers are not included in income unless they exceed the expenses.

Fines for violation of traffic or other laws and regulations are not deductible.
